COMBAT TROOPS NOW IN TUNIS

Crack Units

Fighting in Africa, Guarded News Hint

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (ANP)—When the news was flashed that American troops were pouring into North Africa Saturday, those who had followed the fortunes of the Negro boys who are serving overseas were confident that among the troops which made landings at Casablanca, Arzew, and finally at Algiers were sturdy black soldiers, drawn from among the thousands serving with Lt. Gen. D. D. Eisenhower in Europe. Stationed recently in England and in Ireland, word has been seeping back from these colored units that their training had been effective. They are as hard as nails and raring for real action.

Most of the Negro troops who have been sent to Europe, it is understood here, are either quartermaster or engineer troops. These men get a certain amount of training in the use of arms but there are few of the highly developed Negro combat units serving out of the United States as yet. One regiment from New York, an anti-aircraft outfit, is in Hawaii. One of the old regular regiments formerly stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., and regarded as one of the finest fighting outfits in the entire American army, has long been assumed to be in Africa, either in Liberia or in the Congo. No official word as to its whereabouts has been forthcoming from the War Department.

Negro troops would be logical to use in the invasion of Africa. There is certain to be a greater sense of unity and appreciation between black soldiers from America and brown ones of Africa, than would be true of white Yankees, due to the difficulty of white Americans cloaking the sense of racial superiority which most of them wear on their sleeves. The Arabs, Berbers, and Egyptians are classified as "white" but even so the British and Americans have to be at pains to disguise their contempt for them when personal contact is necessary. On the other hand, letters received from Negro boys formerly stationed at Camp Lathrop, La., some days ago indicated that there were Negro troops in Egypt even before the grand assault made last Saturday.

Negro soldiers are reported to have been used in the construction of the airfields which are going up in Liberia and also a strong supposition has been that Negro fliers might be stationed there. Great satisfaction is expressed here because it is apparent that Negro American soldiers are going to get a chance to play their part in this war for total democracy on the same basis as their white comrades. There is a lot of quiet confidence that the black fighters will acquit themselves well.

BARBER SHOTS IRATE HUSBAND

Edward Carter, 44, was shot and wounded seriously at his home, 2815 North California street, early Monday morning after he had allegedly beaten his wife, he is said to have run upstairs to the room occupied by William and Opal Danrich, who asked Carter to leave after he followed her. During the argument Danrich, who operates a barber shop at 605 North West, shot Carter with 45-caliber pistol in the arm. Police found Carter in the bathroom bleeding profusely and arrested him on a charge of vagrancy. Danrich will be charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

WAR DEPT. SAYS TROOPS WITH LARGE CONVOY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (ANP)—There are several Negro fighting units abroad according to an official of the War Department in answer to a query as to whether all Negro units were "service" units.

Little if any mention has been made of the fact that there are Negro combat units abroad, although one, an anti-aircraft regiment at Hawaii, has been widely publicized.

Declaring it against the policy to give names and designations as well as locations of military units, the department denied the belief that no other Negro combat units were abroad.

At the same time Thursday morning it was announced that a total of 7,000 United States troops had just landed at Cairo and were expected to take an immediate part in the desert campaign now being waged against General Rommel. Negro troops were with this, the largest single convoy of United States troops to be landed from one boat.

The commanding officer, Colonel John E. Baird of Providence, was pleased with the conduct of the troops on the long trip from New York stating that not a single man had been lost through illness or in any other manner, an unusual occurrence. The landing of the troops was belatedly announced.

OMEGAS BRING HUGHES HERE FOR THE PUBLIC

Langston Hughes internationally known poet, will lecture on Poetry, the Negro and War. He will present the awards to winners of the Omega-sponsored Achievement Essay Contest with a special program at Crispus Attucks Auditorium Friday night, November 20, at eight o'clock. Mrs. Mary E. Owens of Richmond will play some of the great writer's compositions and Mr. Hughes will read some of his works.

The Omega Wives are sponsoring a series of social affairs for the poet, including a reception. Mrs. Selma Harry is president of this group. John Brooks is bassist of the local chapter; Dr. H. N. Middleton is chairman of the essay contest.

The public is invited to hear this man, who has been one of the most discussed writers of recent literature. Admission is free.

INDIANA, OHIO EACH ELECTS 3 ASSEMBLYMEN

By William A. Chambers

The available returns on the day following the election, show a decisive victory for the Republicans in this city, county, and generally in the state. The only area in the state where the Democratic party held its own, Lake County, elected James Hunter to the state legislature. St. Joseph County, South Bend, also sent a colored man to the legislature, Joseph L. Dickinson.

The voters of Indianapolis elected Dr. Lucian B. Meriwether, Republican, to the City Council. Wilbur H. Grant, director of the colored division of the Republican State Central Committee, was elected to the State Legislature. Mr. Grant, prominent young attorney of Indianapolis, it is reported, is under army orders of the Selective Service for army duty.

Alfred Wright, young Republican leader and former civil investigator, was elected Constable of Center Township.

The Democratic Party had no Negro candidates on its city or county slate here.

Henry L. Wilson, active young attorney and director of the Democratic state activities among colored people, was defeated for the state legislature.

OHIO REPUBLICANS GAIN THREE SEATS IN ASSEMBLY

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Republicans throughout the state recorded a smashing victory for the party sweeping into office almost the entire ticket, led by Gov. John W. Bricker. Including three candidates for the legislative assembly. They are Rev. David Turpeau of Cincinnati; Rev. Sandy F. Ray of Columbus, and Atty. Chester K. Gillespie of Cleveland.

Atty. Gillespie, a veteran of two terms in the house, was returned to office by a vote upwards of

NEW YORK.—Declaring that the Negro vote played a larger part in the 1942 elections than is recognized by the white dailies, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this week in a statement to the press said that the shift in a number of Congressional Districts of Negro voters from the Democratic to the Republican side is in large measure due to resentment against the domination of national policy on the Negro by the reactionary South. The mistreatment of Negro soldiers in the armed forces and war efforts generally, transfer of the Fair Employment Practice Committee from its independent status under the President to the War Manpower Commission and other evils made Negroes sore enough to shift their political affiliations. Mr. White stated:

"It is true that much of this is due to the attitude of voters generally to 'throw the rascals out' when things do not go well. But it would be a serious mistake for the Republicans to believe that they have recaptured the Negro vote and will continue to hold it no matter what they do. On too many fundamental issues, economic, military, and social, there has been an unholy alliance in Congress between Negro-hating Southern Dem-

HOURLY AT HAND, JOHNSON TOPIC AT YM SUNDAY

For the twenty-second consecutive year Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, will open the YMCA monster meeting series. His topic is "The Hour is at Hand." Ernest Adams will introduce the great educator. Through the courtesy of the local UTSEA the Cincinnati Red Caps quartet will make its appearance here at the monster meeting, and the YMCA band under direction of Ed. Wisdom will play. The meeting opens at 3:30 and the public is invited.

VOTERS SEND 6 TO PENN HOUSE TO LEAD NATION

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Six colored representatives were elected to the state legislature last week, five Democrats and one Republican. Rev. D. W. Howard (Dem.) begins his first term from the 18th District; Dr. Edwin F. Thompson (Dem.) will begin his third term as representative from the 13th District; Thomas W. Trent (Dem.) will represent the seventh district; John W. Briserman won over his Republican opponent, Rev. Clarence M. Smith, and Lewis W. Mintess, the lone Republican victor, will serve his first term from the sixth district.

In Pittsburgh, Homer S. Brown (Dem.), led the first district for state representative by a vote of four to one over his nearest Republican rival, for re-election.

WINS KANSAS COUNTY JOB

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 13. (ANP)—The biggest victory Negroes of Greater Kansas City ever won at the polls came Tuesday with the election of Fred White as Wyandotte County (Kansas) Commissioner. White, a Negro Republican, defeated Frank F. Brown, white Democrat, by over 300 votes for the important county post.

Brown had served two years on the county commission which handles all of the finances of Wyandotte County including the county purchasing, regulation of taxes and other financial matters. The county commission is the highest unit in the county government.

There are three commissioners, one elected each year. With White's election from the second district, the Republicans gained the majority of two members. The two members of the commission with whom White will serve are L. H. Holcomb, Democrat, and Roy Wheat, Republican. Both are white. White was elected for a four-year term with a salary of $3,600 a year. He is the first Negro ever

LOCAL SOLDIER IS YOUNGEST SERGEANT

The distinction of being the youngest First Sergeant in the United States Army goes to an Indianapolis man. He is Odville R. Weathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weathers. Young Weathers enlisted in the Army in June, 1941, and was a Sergeant in two months. Now he is assigned as First Sergeant to the Coast Artillery in the 802nd at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

LAYMEN MEET AT BETHEL AME

Laymen of the Fourth Episcopal District, holding a meeting at Bethel Church last Saturday, made plans for annual meetings hereafter. President William Entzinger made the opening address.

Other delegates included Messrs. Robinson, Crenshaw, C. L. Hughes, and Atty. H. Dudley of Detroit; Atty. Longmire, Fletcher Pigue, W. E. Robinson and wife, Geraldine Haynes of Chicago; Mr. Willis of South Bend; Shelby Gibson of Allen Chapel, Indianapolis, and F. B. Ransom of Bethel, Indianapolis. Resolutions included strong developments of church organizations and co-ordinated efforts among the several conferences; proper recognition of this district; full development and support of able leadership; annual contribution to Wilberforce university; plans for establishment of a home for aged and dependents, laymen and ministers; and appreciation of the hospitality of Rev. J. A. Alexander, his wife and the congregation.

COURT HOLDS WORKER GUILTY IN DOPE CASE

Robert Womack, 26 years old, 649 Locke street, was found guilty of a felony in Federal District Court Wednesday morning by Judge Robert Baltzell. Womack, leader of a jazz orchestra and one of five persons who were charged and found guilty of smuggling marijuana (dope) into local defense plants, did not have sentence passed upon him pending an investigation by probation officers.

The prosecution was handled by David F. Long, assisted United States Attorney who reviewed the case and presented evidence which he thought would convict the defendant. All the defendants were arrested on or about July 18th by Federal Narcotic agents and Detective John R. Glenn after a trap had been set for them by Glenn and other detectives.

An agent was brought here and planted in one of the defense plants and watched the men, checking their activities. Glenn collected sufficient evidence to arrest them. Others awaiting sentence are, James V. Johnson, 24 years old, 224 West New York street; Babe (Steam) Reed, 34, 604 North Senate avenue; Jerry (Veal) Hollowell, 26, address unknown, and Marshall Blair, 22, 2042 Highland place. All have pleaded guilty.

One of the six men, Ransom (Fats) Marshall, 224 West New York street, was killed in a gun fight at 19th and Yandes streets shortly after he was released on bond.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Nov. 13. (ANP)—John A. P. Mackey, chief commissary steward, who survived the sinking of the U. S. S. Calhoun off the Solomon Islands on Aug. 30, gave a graphic description of the gallant fight made by the crew of the doomed destroyer.

"It was h...l on earth," Mackey told newsmen as he was in Portsmouth on leave to visit his mother, Mrs. Martha P. Mackey of Truist. "You don't feel any fear while it is in progress. You feel a little shaky after it is all over."

He continued, "We had made four successful trips into our base carrying supplies for our land forces. But while making what was to be our fifth trip, 18 Jap planes circled over us and dropped everything they had. They made four direct hits, and the Calhoun was gone in two minutes after the first hit."

"They paid a price for their feat, however. American fighters took the air and brought down 16 of these Jap planes without the loss of a single one of our men. The first bomb hit our stern and killed everyone aft. One hit the engine room and the other two around midship. Out of a complement of 150 men we saved 98 men. I was standing on deck watching the bombs come down, until the boatswain's mate fell on top of me."

"Had it not been for the courage and self-control of the commander, Captain G. B. Madden, there certainly would have been more casualties. He was calm as he walked from the bridge and ordered: Abandon Ship."

"I prayed, well Lord, the 'Calhoun' is gone, but save us."

All officers were saved, and there were six colored in the crew, all of whom were saved.

"Men were falling by my side," he continued "and crawling in blood. A shipmate of mine, just before he expired, said 'Help me, Mackey.' As I turned to aid him his life passed out. We threw men who were wounded overboard. Many of whom were wearing life belts and were saved in this manner."

"The sailors were a courageous lot and well trained. Every man knew his battle station aboard and just what to do in such an emergency. They cut loose life rafts momentarily."

Chief Mackey has been in the Navy 25 years, is an ordained minister and when recalled to the Navy in 1939 was posting church in Roper and Windsor, N. C. He is the son of the late Rev. J. C. Mackey of the Virginia A. M. E. Conference. He is married to Miss Glady's Caddell of Chicago on Oct. 22. His wife accompanied him here.

SHELBY WOMAN, VV CLUB LAUDED

Thanks of the 257th Signal Construction Company (Det.), stationed at Camp Atterbury, were sent to Mrs. Ruby Venters, secretary of the Double V Club of Shelbyville because of its work in helping entertain soldiers from this nearby camp.

In a letter from a Camp Atterbury official, it was declared that the Shelbyville group was co-operating 100 per cent. in the national defense effort.

Truman K. Gibson, assistant civilian aide to the Secretary of War, likewise expressed his approval by letter for the work done by the Double V Club.

NO NEW WORLD UNLESS MADE NOW--SMITH

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 13. — Miss Lillian E. Smith, a co-editor of the magazine "South Today," told the students of Morehouse College this week in a series of lectures that it is vitally important for the Negro and white races to acquire mutual understanding. If this could come about, then there would be a common ground on which to work to uproot the seeds of distrust and hate which long have been planted, she said.

Miss Smith spoke out courageously against the dual system which is causing the South to spend so many thousands of dollars needlessly. As a child in a Christian Methodist family, she found that she could not understand the racial antipathy that occurred about her, and even without a knowledge of sociology or segregation, she knew the Southern way of life was wrong. The speaker did not attempt to apologize for Southern traditions, but rather pleaded for an understanding of her race in which children are taught from the cradle up that Negroes are to be treated as inferior.

One way of solving the race problem, suggested by the speaker, is to have personal friends with members of the other race, and this friendship must be based on equal ground. The Negro, she pointed out, wishes to be friendly with the white man but only when that friendship is based on equality rather than on condescension and superiority.

For several years Miss Smith lived in China, and there she found practices similar to those of the South. She became cognizant then that the problem of darker skin is not only an American problem but one the world over, inasmuch as the white man is continually trying to prove that he is superior.

The speaker hopefully looks toward a new world which she declared would have come in spite of the war. But it isn't altogether up to the white race to change to bring about this new world, she said, for the Negro, too, must do his part in overcoming his personal difficulties and his feelings of racial hatred.

Much good can come through the training and education of children. Miss Smith stated, comforting her listeners with the fact that many white people are beginning to see that their whole framework for getting along with Negroes has got to be changed. Mothers are beginning with their children, she said, and college students can help by beginning in their own homes and steering their younger brothers and sisters into the right channels of thinking.

Do not expect to find a new world waiting after the war is over, the students were told, for a new world represents a new way of life and it is to come about, each person must do his part to make it so. Democracy is not a Christmas present to be handed out at the proper time, but something that has to come out of our hearts and in our living.

In concluding her talk, Miss Smith cautioned the young men to stay steady, hold on to real values, and then to go ahead and ask for what they want. Your goal won't be far if you hold on to dignity and self-control, were her parting words.

The two days' visit of Miss Smith to the campus of Morehouse College was sponsored by the Department of Sociology of which Professor Walter R. Chivers is chairman. The visitor spoke at the chapel services at Morehouse and Spelman Colleges, conducted afternoon seminars in the Exhibition Room of the Atlanta University Library, and spoke at a Forum on Wednesday evening, at which the spectators packed into the Lounge of Robert Hall. She also found time to speak at Gammon Theological Seminary during her stay.

Miss Smith was educated in institutions in Georgia, Maryland, and New York. She spent three years in China as a teacher of music, harmony, and piano, under the Methodist Board of Missions in their school at Huchow in Chekiang Province. Several years ago, in co-operation with Miss Paula Shelling, Miss Smith started the magazine "South Today." Her headquarters are in Clayton, Ga.

5,000,000 WOMEN NEEDED
IN WAR INDUSTRIES—NEWS ITEM

"CROSS THAT BRIDGE NOW!"

WAR CLASSES NEED 500 MORE ENROLLES

War production training classes which will be started here Monday primarily with a view to preparing women for jobs in war industries have openings for about 500 students, both women and men, Dr. Edward Hays, manager of the Indianapolis office of the United States Employment Service, said yesterday.

Many women and men already have signed for classes at the local employment service office, 111 East Market street, some of them registering at night. In addition to daytime registrations during the rest of this week, students will be signed up from 7 to 9 o'clock to night and tomorrow night.

MANY WHO FAIL TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH USES MISS WAR JOB CALLS

Workers who wonder why they have not been called for a war job after registering with the United States Employment Service may have unknowingly "killed" their applications, Regional Manpower Director, William H. Spencer, announced today.

Failure to keep registration cards alive is one reason so many workers—both men and women—do not get job calls from their local United States Employment Service office, he declared.

"Too often," Spencer explained, "applicants register at their local United States Employment Service office and then fail to keep their registration alive by the simple process of reporting back to that same local office once each month to assure their availability for a job. We must have the complete cooperation of applicants to eliminate misunderstanding and to help us make placements rapidly."

In further explanation he pointed out that when an applicant registers, his card is filed in a particular active job category. Then, when there is a job which requires his qualifications, his card is pulled and he is notified. One can see, therefore, how essential it is to keep this job file active and up-to-the minute, he said.

Mr. Spencer advised that applicants can make a very real contribution to the efficiency of the USES by notifying their local office as soon as they have procured a job—whether it be through the efforts of the USES or not. In this way, workers' names are removed from the active files and there is not a lot of lost time involved trying to get in touch with people who are already employed.

Since thousands of applicants clear through USES channels constantly, the Director said, it is difficult to keep an accurate check on registrants without their cooperation. In the interest of speedy placement of vitally-needed workers, applicants are urged by the Government to report monthly to their local USES office, as directed. Persons who obtain jobs should notify their local offices, so that their cards may be removed from the active file.

"During these fast-moving war times," Spencer said, "when lost man hours of labor mean a drastic loss in production, any small deviation from the rules and regulations which might contribute to loss of manpower is not aiding the war effort."

INDIANA NAVY BOOSTERS' CLUB
CITES RECORDER

The Indiana Navy Boosters' Club has cited the Indianapolis Recorder in a "Certificate of Appreciation." The Indiana Navy Boosters' Club is an organization composed of some of the city's and state's leading civic, business and industrial executives. The club includes in its program the promotion of a greater and better Navy.

The U. S. Navy during the month of October sought the enlistment of (2000) three thousand men from the State of Indiana. Negro youths were invited to enlist in the Navy to fill the Indiana quota. This appeal to the Negro youths of the state, a direct appeal was made through the columns of the Indianapolis Recorder. The special direct appeal to the Negro youths of the state was made at no expense or bother to the Indiana Recruiting Services of the U. S. Navy.

The U. S. Navy affords discipline and training to the youths of our land. The Navy offers training in 1500 fifty or more trades to the youths existing in its ranks. Many of these trades are open to Negro youths enlisting in the Navy. In noting "Navy Day" October 27th, 1942, the Recorder produced a full page display inviting Negro youths of the city and state to join the Navy. The page was produced with or through the co-operation of various business and industrial firms of the city or the executives of these firms, or organizations. Among these were several firms of national or international renown.

ocrats and reactionary Republicans who think of the Negro only when he is forced to around election time.

"As the Norfolk Journal and Guide stated editorially on November 7, regarding the Republican Party's oversight in adopting a ten-point declaration of policies and principles, Republican House leadership missed the bus when it insisted that capable and trained leaders be used in the war effort, 'regardless of party, group, class, or section,' but did not include 'regardless of race, creed, or color.'"

"Negroes are learning the lesson of the shifting national and international forces and utilize their strategically located political strength wisely, unselfishly, and with complete independence. Only by so doing can he cause the political leadership of all parties to know that the Negro voter is alert, intelligent, and is watching critically every word and deed of the various political parties."

Reporter's Work

Results in Action By Federal Agents

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Scoring another victory for Negro papers in their fight for Democracy and against race prejudice, the self-styled Father William R. Riker bitter foe of Negroes, was arrested Friday of last week charged with sedition, by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Released under $7,500 cash bond posted by members of his colony near San Jose, Cal. He was ordered to appear for preliminary hearing before Judge A. P. St. Sine, at San Francisco.

Exposed by ANP Article. The arrest of the 68-year-old bearded patriarch, who 23 years ago set up a colony on some 100 acres, naming it "Holy City" has brought a sigh of relief not only to local citizens and fair-minded whites, but from all over the country whence protests began coming following the exposure of his real anti-Negro principles. This was a lengthy article by the coast representative of the Associated Negro Press, who aided by a young colored sociology student had digested the contents of seven of Riker's books. Those, printed on Riker's own printing press by hatched followers with whom he had surrounded himself, were being secretly mailed to possible disciples of his "white supremacy" teachings. Among these were "God Speaks Through Holy City," "The Perfect Government," "The White Race Is Supreme," and others all full of bitter venom and suggestions of violence "if necessary" to drive the Negro "back to Africa."

Local Leader Swears Out Complaint. Immediately following release of the digest full-page bannerlines appeared in most of the national papers frequently accompanied by editorial comment. The first books having been secured by "A. W." and the ANP representative by pretending they were sympathetic whites and giving false addresses other indignant race citizens followed suit, and also secured copies of the hateful literature.

But the first direct step to demand punishment for this agitator came from Sidney P. Dones, widely known civic leader, who called the Federal Bureau of Investigation early last April and arranged for a conference with him. Harry Levette, ANP representative and John Taylor, ANP photographer. To their surprise, FBI officials devoted more than an hour discussing the matter and at their request nine of the books were turned over to them. A sworn complaint was also entered, and since then the whole group has been hopelessly waiting.

However, fuel was added by a formal protest recently sent to Washington by a group of ministers headed by Rev. Clayton D. Russell of Independent Church of Christ and a series of editorials in the California Eagle by Editor Charlotta A. Bass.

Although there were any number of violations under which Riker could have been indicted the specific one named in the arrest warrant was that he had attempted to cause disloyalty among the armed forces by making defamatory statements to three U. S. soldiers near Moffet Field. These were Lytle R. Whitehead, Carl Black, and Cherrie Hammond. On August 18, he expounded to them that the "white race is superior to Negroes and Filipinos."

Conviction on the charges will give Riker a sentence of $10,000 fine or up to 20 years' imprisonment or both, if convicted.

to be elected to this important post. He is captain of No. 5 fire company of Kansas City, Kas., having been with the fire department for 30 years, 14 of them as captain.

In the contest for representative from the eighth district to the Kansas state legislature, William H. Towers, Republican incumbent, defeated Cordell D. Meeks, Democrat, by 1,000 votes.

Andrew Schoepfel of Ness City was elected governor of Kansas He was the choice of the majority of Negro voters.

In Kansas City, Mo., both Negro candidates lost to their white opponents. T. B. Watkins, undertaker, Republican candidate for legislator from the fourth legislative district, was defeated by Thomas J. Gill, Democratic incumbent by 604 votes. The final count was Gill, 6,306; Watkins, 5,702.

L. Amasa Knox, attorney, Republican candidate for justice of the peace in the sixth district, was defeated by Henry McKissick, Democrat. The complete returns give McKissick 2,895 votes to 1,303 for Knox.

Observers say that if the Negro precincts had supported Watkins and Knox as strongly as did the white Republican precincts, they could have won but the Negro Democrats voted for white "machine" candidates (McKissick and Gill) instead of Negro candidates.

RESENTMENT

109,662 in a district where slim hopes were held for a Republican candidate. The lawyer known as a vote-getter and able legislator, captured his seat with a tally far ahead of opposing candidates.

In the heavily partisan Hamilton County covering Cincinnati, Rev. Turpeau scored an easy victory with a total of 110,353 ballots. He is serving his second term in the legislature.

At Columbus voters were congratulating themselves on returns indicating that Rev. Stanley P. Ray pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church had won by a handsome margin in Franklin County. The minister is a newcomer to the city but has attracted a strong following because of his militancy in the fight for Negro rights.

Although the Bricker landslide put most Republican candidates in office three candidates for the legislature lost at Cleveland. They are Atty. John G. Shackelford, William B. Saunders, and Francis Young, who while piling up impressive votes fell short of the majority that would have gained them seats.

Observers at the polls remarked on the absence of pre-Roosevelt sentiment so noticeable in previous elections. Several reasons have been advanced for the change in political attitude here. Resentment of over the unapproachableness of the Democratic County Chairman, Ray T. Miller, was counted as a leading factor. Miller it is said has refused to attend meetings in precincts and holds himself aloof from the voters in colored districts except for a certain clique alleged to represent the area.

It was also pointed out that the Democrats failed to select one Negro candidate for the ticket in the general election, and the candidates themselves from their attitude inferred that they had the Negro vote "in their vest pocket." The Republicans under the leadership of Gov. Bricker, however, made a judge through appointment of Atty Perry B. Jackson, and have pursued a policy of liberality toward minority groups. These and other considerations are said to have accounted for the strong Republican vote in Ohio.

NOT ONLY DO WE HAVE The great Commando unit in our United States Army, but we have a Commando club, which includes a group of conscientious young women, who work in every capacity at the Service Men's club to do everything possible to make it pleasant for the soldiers here and abroad! President of the club, Alma Porter and her secretary, Ollie Hightower, are being assisted by other officers and members to make their floor show which will end the popularity contest between several popular young misses of the younger social set, which are vying for the honor of Miss USO, successful! Who will be, is the question, and each contestant is working and selling as many votes as possible! The unique floor show will be under supervision of Miss Billie Smith, well-known and talented dancer, who formerly danced with the of team Billie and Billy. The show will be held at Northwestern Community Center Friday night, November 20, from eleven until two a. m. Dancing will be enjoyed after the crowning of Miss USO and music will be furnished by Bob Womack and his Bobcats!—This affair is given solely to benefit the Service Men's Center!—you will be expected to participate with the Commandos in his all-out for soldiers affair!—If you are not a member of any fighting unit, then be a good supporter of a group of women who are serving in every capacity, just as Commandos in the army!—Contestants are: Mary Ferguson, Juanita Overby, Ruby Oliver, Leanne McGavoy, Jannie Wilson, Mary Davis, Ruth Husky, Virginia Collier, Della V. Johnson, Lou Bertha Williams, Georgia Cheatham, Elizabeth Blackburne, Geneva Bledsoe, Ora Lee Smith, Lois Duvalle, Helen Maxey, Elaine Gaskins, Mary Stanfield, Betty Riley, Katie Grimes, Virginia Sherron, Anna Patterson, Pauline Willis Ernestine Standard, Katherine Buler, Gladys Mae Johnson and Emma Bell Hamilton.

Members of the Gay Cabelleros club did their bit of sending off buddies to Uncle Sam's army with a farewell party at the Federation of Associated clubs home in Capitol avenue. Those present included Messrs. and Mesdames Dorsey Duley, Joseph Craig, Broyles, Elmer Birch, Mesdames Heywood, Willingham, Smith and Farmer and James Willingham and Alvia Coleman. Decorations were in keeping with the harvest season and an enjoyable evening was spent. Also being entertained prior to his induction into the army was Harvey Davis, who was feted with a dinner by relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Ware and sister, Mrs. Lavinia Clark at home in W. 28th street. Other guests included his wife, Mrs. Sadie Davis and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugh Sharp. Clarence Sansbury who leaves for service, Friday November 13, was entertained by a few friends last Friday at the Northside Industrial club home. Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Cronie Blanes, Mr. and Mrs. Elzy McKeynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, the Bud Garnetts, Mrs. German, Mrs. Mary Wright and Mrs. Joe Miller. Mr. Sansbury presented an interesting collection of pictures of Brown County and various foundries and others.

A dug-out party was given in honor of Wilson Hawkins, popular Lincoln Hotel waiter, Monday night at Smith Irvin's Barbe-cue Kitchen. Approximately fifty waiters and friends came to enjoy a last evening of friendly get-together with Wilson. Luther Whitted served as master of ceremonies with Headwaiter Smith Irvin as toastmaster. Timely remarks were given by members of the hotel crew, with Wm. (Bill) Black headwaiter of the Claypool also as a speaker and a guest. Wm. (Bill) Robinson of the Hotel Severin was also a guest and gave timely remarks. With the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," speeches came to an abrupt pause and Wilson was presented with a beautiful Parker Airliner fountain pen!—Cocktails were enjoyed throughout the evening and a tasty repast was served! Among the several friends who were present beside the hotel crew were Mrs. Rowena Crane, Miss Ida Fields, Mrs. Smith Irvin, Mrs. Servella Dowd, Mrs. William Robinson, Miss Nannie Allen, Miss Sara Wallace, other ladies, and yours truly. LeRoy Dailey, and Elwood Crane served as hosts assisted by Willie Corn!—A gala evening was spent and 'tis beyond a doubt that "the gang" will be waiting to greet Buddy Hawkins upon his return!

Congratulations are in order this week to the Edvenoil Hendersons who celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary November 6. Mrs. Henderson was formerly Miss Elhara Polin, daughter of Mrs. Edna Polin, 333 W. 30th street. Passing another milestone was Joe Cecil Francis, who was given a birthday party by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Francis Sunday. A three course dinner was served and floral decorations were used throughout the house. Guests included Corp. John F. Rowe, Camp Gordon, Ga.; Mrs. Stella Malone, Gertrude Whitlow, Charlotte Malone, Mary Francis and Delores Bennett.

Mrs. Lillian Price entertained Cpl. John F. Rowe with a breakfast Sunday morning at which time he was given a hearty welcome back home to Indianapolis on his furlough. Guests included Mrs. Gertrude Whitlow, Mrs. Amos Brewer, George Fisher Jr., and Mrs. Price. The morning was spent in socializing. Cpl. Rowe was also entertained by Mrs. Velma Clay last Thursday night at her home with a get-together party. Ohmer Fishback, Mrs. Gertrude Whitlow and others were among guests. Mrs. John J. Young is visiting her husband, Pvt. Young who is going to Officers' Training School in Aberdeen, Maryland. Technician Sergeant, James R. Bean who is stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga., is home on furlough as guest of his mother, Mrs. Lula G. Bean, 2401 Paris avenue. Sgt. James McIntyre, who is on duty at Fort Lewis Washington has returned to his station after spending fifteen days with his sister, Mrs. Frances Moore in W. 18th street. Cpl. Robert Lee Combs, husband of Mrs. Ethel Combs, 2413 N. Capitol avenue has returned to Greenville, S. C. Air Base after spending a furlough with her, who has been ill at home. Mrs. Combs is convalescing and desires friends to call.

Among other social events this week Mr. and Mrs. Herman New and Mrs. Inez Washington entertained with a five course formal dinner party last Tuesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scott of New York City. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Russell, Miss Ruth Schores, Ike Tremble, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie New, the Van Bruce Gants, Mrs. Bessie Barnett, Miss Elizabeth Allen, Roy McLaurin, Mrs. Martha Lamb, Miss Beatrice Easley, Mrs. Ethel Miller, Tom Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Buckner, and Mr. Johnson.

Johnson will give reminiscences on the life of Simpson. The semi-annual treasurers report will be read by Mr. W. R. Hill, church reasurer.

WORLD PRAYER SERVICES.

Recognizing that prayer is being appreciated and practiced today much more than in times of peace and comfort, the Indianapolis Council of Church Women and the Church Federation recommend that the church bells be rung to call the people to pray for God's guidance and grace in the present world peril, and for the spirit of brotherhood and goodwill to rule among all nations to the end that a peace may come which will be just and durable and worthy of the sacrifices that will be made and the lives that will be given in the service of their country.

The bells will be rung at 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday each week for the duration beginning November 11, which is being recognized as World Government day. The Federal Council of Churches has suggested 6 p. m. Eastern Time as America's Prayer Minute at which time there is a national hook-up which reaches us in Indianapolis over WIBC at 5 p. m.

The ministers of the city and county are co-operating in this and we ask all churches that have bells to ring the mat this time each evening. Church bulletins and church papers are carrying this announcement, informing the people of the purpose and time of the prayer.

The recommendation was first presented to the Church Federation from the Council of Church Women by Mrs. Virgil A. Sly, president, having originated in the Council's Personal Faith and Experience Committee, Mrs. Wm. A. Shullenberger, chairman. The committee which has made the plans is composed of Mrs. Sly, Mrs. Shullenberger, Rev. E. F. Roesti, Rev. H. H. Hazeufeld, Rev. Ellis W. Hay, Rev. Henry F. Dugan, Rabbi Maurice Goldblatt, and Rev. J. T. Highbaugh.

Madam, here's one TABOO you can forget when you want relief

You can thank your lucky stars that women are no longer squeamish about discussing their troubles. Otherwise you might never know of the 2-way help that CARDUI may bring when nervousness, headaches, and cramp-like pain are due only to periodic functional causes. Many women find that, started three days before the time and taken as directed, CARDUI aids in relieving functional periodic discomforts. Used as a tonic, CARDUI often wakes up sleepy appetites, aids digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices, and thus helps to build up resistance against the days it's needed most. Try it!

Doris M. Norrel, Assigned To Duty At Ft. Hayes

FORT DES MOINES, Ia.—One of 14 Negro officers in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps assigned to recruiting duty, Third Officer Doris McDonald Norrel, of Indianapolis, Ind., has been ordered to Fort Hayes, Ohio, this week.

Officers Norrel will be on duty in the Fifth Service Command.

Assigned to duty with her is Third Officer Glendora Moore of New York City. Both are members of the first group of 36 Negro officers commissioned in the Corps. They have received special instruction in the procedure of recruiting women for the work of relieving men in non-combat army jobs, and will help select women for the Corps.

On leaving for her new duty, Officer Norrel said, "I regard this as an opportunity for young women today. Through the women's army we will be enabled to take the place of men in the regular army in those jobs we can do as well as men. That is what makes our work in the Women's Army auxiliary corps much more important than any we could be doing in civilian life."

As a preliminary to her work as a recruiting officer, the Indianapolis WAAC was assigned, following her graduation from Officer Candidate school, to company administrative work, where she obtained practical experience in army routine and operation. Supervising clerical work of a company, including the making out of morning reports and duty rosters of her company, she found to be a necessary part of her training in the operation of a military unit.

Officer Norrel is the daughter of Dr. John W. Norrel and the late Mrs. Norrel, 530 Senate ave., Indianapolis. She was formerly employed in the finance department of this city.

Born in Montgomery, Ala., she moved with her family to this city, where she was educated in the public schools. She attended Fisk university and John Herron Art school, and enrolled in extension courses at Indiana university.

Officer Norrel was active in work with the YMCA and Flanner House, and assisted with the organization of young people for Democratic clubs throughout the state of Indiana. She is a member of the Roman Catholic church.

PAYNE IS SERGEANT

Wilbur Payne has been promoted to Supply Sergeant at San Bernardino, Calif., with the Aviation Squadron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne, 2623 Paris avenue. He formerly taught at Jarvis College, Hawkins, Texas.

Mrs. Marguerite Shepherd was hostess to the Ritz Bridge club at the Federated home. Prizes were won by Miss Dempsey, Mrs. Robinson and Miss Howard. Mrs. Robinson is next hostess.

Odelphia Girls Bridge club met Nov. 7 with Mrs. Lois Mendenhall. Mesdames Olivia Cowherd, Lillian Curtis and Miss Edna Graves won prizes. Mrs. Lorene Clark is next hostess.

Mrs. Jessie Jacobs and Mrs. Hattie Wadsworth were hostesses for the Monday Eight Bridge club, October 12 and 26 respectively. Prizes were won by Mesdames Julia Hines, Virginia Burton, Amy Reynolds, Wadsworth, Hines, and Jessie Jacobs. Mrs. Beatrice Woodruff was guest at the last meeting.

Industrial Girls club will meet Thursday evening, Nov. 12 with Ruby Morrow, 42 W. 11th st. Jessie Mansfield is president.

Altruistic club meets with Mrs. Cora Reasley, 2444 Ethel st. Members please be present Thursday afternoon.

Who Will Be "Miss USO"?

Jordan Breezes

(By James (Bud) Tourner)

Bloomington, Ind., the home of proud Indiana university, the great institution of higher learning, ranked only as the best of its kind in the nation. Here at this educational center, Negroes as well as whites receive preparation for the future and advancement in this troubled world. Before many a moon I myself will be serving the armed forces as are a great many of our boys today, but I will attempt to get as many articles to our readers as possible. The beautiful campus of old I. U. is located on the banks of the Wabash with the river Jordan flowing nearby; many great and exciting people rub elbows daily, but conditions being as they are makes everyone see and think together, one level being for all. Prejudice, the great common enemy of our race, ceases to be as effective as in times of the past. Someday I am sure that this will be overcome completely. Among us we have those who are witty, people with keen intellects, sharpened to the edge and those who have interesting personalities about whom we will hear of later. There is great attraction on this campus and the past, present and future seems to revolve as one. The main gate attraction is football, a rollicking outdoor sport that is the life of the great American way.

Sepia Hugh (Knocky) McKinnis of Farrell, Pa., Indiana's big, fast and hard charging fullback is with Hollenbrand, the team's outstanding player and is, without a doubt, one of the best in the tough big nine conference, opposing teams will not contest that. "Knocky" is a great inspirational team player and Hollenbrand's favorite fullback. There's Larry Falwell, a track specialist, and former national high school quarter mile champion. Robert Fields, a good athlete and former all-American basketball star from Lincoln university in Jefferson City, Mo., and Bill Elliott, a Crispus Attucks graduate who will be Coach Billy Hayes outstanding sprinter on this year's varsity. That's just a few of the calibre of boys we have here and every Negro youth on the campus is participating in some kind of athletics or R. O. T. C. to better prepare himself for the nation's big job of defeating the Axis.

Social Whirl—Bobby Deal and Bob Evans of Gary's younger social set were visitors over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Winston Thomas of Gary visited their respective parents over the weekend. Rosalind Fields of East Chicago expects to become the bride of dapper Bill Moore, who at present is serving in the Armed Forces, being located in Georgia. Cab Carson of Hammond has announced his early retirement for the duration. He hopes to be rejuvenated. Jane Harding is an outstanding girl basketball player from Gary, scoring eighteen points in a recent game.

Answer these Questions and make a good laxative choice

Ques. Can any laxative be of help when you feel listless, logy, or have a coated tongue? Ans. Yes, if those conditions are the result of constipation. Ques. Why has Black-Draught been such an outstandingly popular laxative with four generations? Ans. Because it is purely herbal, and usually gentle, thorough, prompt when directions are followed. Ques. What's another reason for Black-Draught's great popularity? Ans. It costs only 25¢ for 25 to 40 doses. Don't wait! Get Black-Draught in the familiar yellow box today. Many prefer the new granulated form. Follow label directions.

"Orchestra Wives" at the Walker Theatre Sunday

GLENN MILLER'S BAND, NICHOLAS BROTHERS TOP IN MUSICAL HIT

It would seem, offhand, that you don't have to be a Lindy hopper to get all topped up about "Orchestra Wives," the hilarious 20th Century-Fox musical, that comes to the Walker theatre Sunday.

First of all, the picture stars the band that for three successive years has been voted America's most popular band in a poll conducted by authoritative "Billboard" magazine. That's Glenn Miller, of course, and his talented crew of instrumentalists and vocalists.

Then there is George Montgomery, lately one of the "Ten Gentlemen From West Point." He's a handsome lad, a trumpet player, with one foot in the groove and the other in matrimony. And co-starred with Miller and Montgomery is darling Ann Rutherford, an orchestra wife who—also—almost becomes a brass widow.

They say the story is as tempting as its tunes—and that's saying something: for the same bright lads who wrote "Chattanooga Choo Choo."

Also: "Two Yanks" when Pat O'Brien and Brian Donlevy "get mad" at each other, during the hilarious scene of Columbia's "Two Yanks in Trinidad," they reserve for themselves the right to knock each other's block off. And in that fact, according to a delighted Hollywood, lies a major reason for the cheers and excitement, the fun and frolic (and free-for-all fistuffs!) of the new comedy.

The embattled warriors are in uniform while carrying on their own private feud, but they join forces readily as soon as a greater conflict interferes, gladly renouncing "for the duration" their right to undisturbedly knock each other's block off.

"Two Yanks in Trinidad," which opens Thursday at the Walker theatre, is also distinguished by the stellar presence of lovely Janet Blair, comparative newcomer to the cinema scene, as a sultry cafe siren. She provides the added fuel which causes the O'Brien-Donlevy conflict to flare high, wide and handsome. Gregory Ratoff, himself a master of the comedy arts, directed "Two Yanks in Trinidad" with thoughtful attention to its many thrills and suspenseful sequences, so that the new film is said to emerge as a well-rounded example of motion picture entertainment at its best.

PLUS—A full-length hit Laurel & Hardy these famed funny fellows who dare you to see "A Harming We Will Go" guaranteed to scare the "yell outa you."

Roosevelt Sykes And St. Louis Jimmy To Make Personal Appearances

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 13.—The Bluebird and Decca Recording companies thru their Chicago offices announced today the release of two of their star recording artists to make a limited personal tour of some of the larger cities and towns. Mr. Lester Melrose of the Bluebird Company says, due to shut down on recordings at this time, we are yielding to the demand of the dance promoters for personal appearances of some of our stars and the artists released are Roosevelt Sykes "The Honey Dripper" who has recorded more than a score of "hits."

Among the more popular ones are: "Night Time is the Right Time," "Forty-Seven Street Five," "Set the Meat Outdoors, and Let the Black Cat have His way," "Skin and Bones" and "Mr. Sykes Blues."

And also St. Louis Jimmy, who has made popular such hits as: "Going Down Slow," "Monkey Face Woman," "Come Day, Go Day," "Can't Stand Your Evil Ways," "St. Louis Woman," "Poor Boy" and others.

The original recording trio, has been signed by Ferguson Bros. Agency, Inc., 322 N. Senate ave., Indianapolis, Indiana and contracts have already been signed for this famous pair to appear in person in some of the leading theatres and night clubs in this country. They will be teamed with Bob Womack and his orchestra and will play a limited number of one night engagements in some of the largest cities.

At Park Tuesday

Nicholas Brothers In Walker Film

Here's photographic proof of the riotous romance and hilarious fun that stamp "Orchestra Wives" a top musical. Shown below are Glenn Miller and a portion of his brass section.

Glenn Miller's vocalists, Ray Eberle and Marion Hutton, carousing mikes; while George Montgomery preens, carousing Ann Rutherford. The two in flight are the Nicholas Brothers. Those torrid terpsichore laurels to their present popularity while in the Buckeye state. Members of the band are: Bob Womack, leader and drummer; Ozzie Marcillus, bass; Harold Mahone, piano; Willard Black, vibraphone; Bethel Williams, guitar; Francis Walker, tenor sax; Bill Stafford, sax; Jimmy Smith, baritone sax; LaVern Kemp, sax; Perry Swanson, tenor.

Bob Womack's Bobcats Go On Tour Next Week

Bob Womack and his original Bobcats leave this week-end for a tour of Ohio cities. The band is well known in this part of the Middle West and should add new

"Sweater Girl" at the Park Sun.

Mystery, murder and music—plenty of the latter—are mingled merrily by Paramount in "Sweater Girl," the frolicsome college movie arriving Sunday at the Park theatre with Eddie Bracken and June Preisser.

Adapted as a mystery musical of campus life, "Sweater Girl" has been hailed by preview critics as one of the season's brightest picture offerings, laden with hit tunes, laughs and beautiful girls. Directed by William Clements and produced by Sol C. Siegel, the film's ace cast includes Betty Jane Rhodes, Phillip Terry, Nils Asther, Frieda Inescort and Ella Neal. The songs were written by Frank Loesser and Julie Styne.

Eddie Bracken, who was a rookie with Bob Hope in "Caught in the Draft" and a go with William Holden and Dorothy Lamour in "The Fleet's In," goes collegiate in this one. He's a stage-struck student who gets caught in the middle of a murder plot. In fact, he's an intended victim. Miss Rhodes, the blonde songbird who Fleet's In," sings the hit Parade torch song in "Sweater Girl," the already popular "I Don't Want to Walk Without You."

PLUS—A gripping thriller to scare the yell outa you, "A Man With 2 Lives" featuring an all-star cast.

Tuesday—

20th Century-Fox is bent on keeping us happy for the duration, for right on the heels of "My Gal Sal" they have come forth with another grand musical just bubbling over with joyous humor, merry tunes, exciting dances and best of all—Betty Grable at her musical best. "Footlight Serenade" it's called and it opens Tuesday at the Park theatre before a packed house that gave the glad welcome to Betty and her co-stars John Payne and Victor Mature.

Al—That Grable! She's perfectly enchanting as she sings, dances and romances against a Broadway background. And to compliment the gorgeous blonde, Johnny Payne and Vic Mature turn in Avel performance— including a rousing Plus—Rip roaring outdoor thrills in "The Kid From Kansas" and a thrilling episode "Gang Busters" Police actions against crime.

ANNE BROWN, SOPRANO, SINGS AT CHEYNEY.

CHEYNEY, Pa., (TYP)—An overflow audience greeted lovely Anne Brown, noted N. Y. soprano, here Saturday night in the Cheyney Day Exercises at Cheyney State Teachers college.

At The Park Sunday

Blonde June Preisser and comedian Eddie Bracken put the "jitters" in "jitterbug" in "Sweater Girl," the fun film arriving Sunday at the Park theatre. Plus—Lloyd Nolan and Marjorie Weaver in "The Man Who Wouldn't Die."

We'll Finish This Fight Thurs. At Walker

Shown above are Pat O'Brien and Brian Donlevy in a "friendly" fistie repartee from "Two Yanks in Trinidad," which starts Thursday at the Walker.

Lemons Help The Budget

Try Them Cooked With Meats and Vegetables

By BETTY BARCLAY

Already recognized as a leading food accompaniment, lemons are gaining popularity daily for their values in combination with other items in a menu. They lend a pleasant tang to foods served as appetizers; they serve as flavor leaders and seasoners often bringing out otherwise hidden or subdued flavors in inexpensive main course dishes; and, likewise, a squeeze of their abundant and thirst quenching juice adds zip and zest to whatever food it is united with.

When this fruit or the juice of it, is combined with meats and vegetables and all these foods are cooked together, there's a delightful subtlety of flavor and a finishing touch that's extra delicious. An example of this tempting goodness is the pictured main dish known as California Chicken. It's a popular service for fall and one suitable for more special occasions and still not too elaborate for a family dinner. The same recipe may be used, however, with lamb or pork chops or as a budget aid, beef or lamb stew meat may be used.

Through the process of slow cooking, the lemon brings out a distinctive flavor in the sauce formed by the tomato, onion, and green pepper and provides an unusual accompaniment with any of the named delicately browned meats. There's eye appeal too, for this tri-colored sauce adds life as well as deliciousness to the meats.

To prepare California Chicken, you'll need:

1 good-sized chicken
Salt and pepper
Flour
1/4 cup fat

Cut chicken into serving pieces, dip each piece quickly in cold water, then sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour or put flour, salt and pepper in a paper sack; drop chicken in sack and shake vigorously to cover evenly with flour. Sauté the chicken in fat until each piece is delicately browned on both sides. Drain well and place pieces in stewing pan. Cover chicken with:

2 unpeeled lemons, sliced
1 large sweet onion, cut in rings
1 green pepper, cut in rings
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups tomato juice

Cover and cook slowly until the chicken is tender and admits a fork easily and until the above ingredients have cooked down to a sauce. When the dish is ready to serve, attractively cut lemon garnishes should be served with it for those who like more lemon flavor. The garnishes may be plain or decorative lemons but there should also be some more practical juice-providing lemons that these garnishes give sober foods a finesse acclaimed by best food fashion.

IN THE GROOVE

By Elizabeth Brizentine-Taft

A lot of home-town boys have come home during the past few weeks with stripes showing their true colors of really being in Uncle Sam's army! Need I say that Sgt. Herbert (Bus) McDonald was a popular figure along the main stem while on his furlough from Eglin Field, Fla.? In a conversation with Bus, he seems very much pleased with his location and with his treatment! It was a pleasure to have talked with him and to know he has to conscientious feeling about fighting for us back home! Do you dig the US! Carl (Nipper) Anderson was a familiar figure around Shaw's and he's really in there as Technician Corporal! Isaac (Ike) Ferguson, who was among the first to go in service during peace-time was home and he's a staff sergeant from out in California somewhere! From Cpl. Matthew J. Buckner, we learn it won't be long now but he plans to come home for a few days before that time! The more they write, the more they come the more we realize that they have to go, and we really will be glad, "When the Lights Come on Again!"

Pvt. Philmore Hutchins of this city is at Ft. Bragg, N. C. and is a member of the drum and corps of which Pvt. Harry Major of Chicago is drum major! Pvt. Joseph Smith writes that he's doing fine but he's in the Field Artillery at Ft. Bragg and that's really something but makes a certain lady's heart just jump up and down! That lady is Mrs. Beatrice Smith boy, oh boy! Probably won't be long before she'll be hoppin a choo-choo and well! read between the dots! Cpl. Shelby Miller looks very handsome in his uniform. It probably won't be long before he too will be taking off to parts unknown! but we believe that he'll be coming back among the ranks of others with his just stripes! and ain't just clickin' my teeth!

And speaking of these fellows who are already doing their share in this fight for true democracy and since this is American Education Week it's timely that I tell you that it's a good idea for you to visit the school in your neighborhood and see just how many ill true soldiers we have in the generations coming later! It's wonderful to see how that dear teacher who takes the responsibility of building strong characters and soldiers of your lamby-pie and mine! How they are taught the Psalms, the prayers, the National Anthems how they know from memory even to the tiniest of children the pledge of allegiance to Old Glory! It's remarkable to know that they are being taught now the true spirit of democracy that thing which we all must put our shoulders together and fight to have! It does me proud to have a son who is in the baby grades as we call it and to have a daughter who is between the baby grades and the junior high school at School No. 4 that they have teachers who are qualified and capable of assuming the responsibility of not only mine, but of several as many as 36 and 40; that they are taught union of speech, union of song and union of brotherhood, team-work, sportsmanship, loyalty, reliability, health, and all the other characteristics which make good American citizens! We who have children owe it to them to visit the schools; it's a rush rush everywhere! But it at least appeases your mind to know that while you're at work, and your child in the hands of someone else that they are being taught many more things than you perhaps could teach because of the fact of having to work! Visit a school this week! Visit somebody's child and see what progress is really being made!

The Jackie P., Adolphus Woods, and Miss Leatrice Brown enjoyed a few days of play in Chicago! Things are quite groovy and jumpy up that way and they were well entertained and received! The Bowling team continues its Thursday night games, and although they have been defeated for the past two weeks they continue with that true spirit of sportsmanship and will unto the end continue to prove their colors! Sportsmanship is what it takes a quitter never wins, and a winner never quits!

CORRECTION AND APOLOGIES are in order to Mr. and Mrs. Wherry Tucker Their fifteenth wedding anniversary was celebrated instead of the fifth! That makes it better and something for which to be proud! Well, this is about all this jibbering and chattering we'll apologize if this isn't all news to you but we scooped a party last week that hadn't happened and didn't happen until Monday night! It's all rect and it's still groovy! and that's 30!

Plainfield, Ind.

Services were held Sunday by Rev. J. C. Mitchell. The Missionary society met Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mitchell is president. Mrs. Kinsey and Wm. Kinsey visited his father last week. Otis Cullins and family and Mrs. A. Carbin and Eva Swann attended the meeting at Bridgeport last Sunday. Mrs. Leam Jones of Indianapolis was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey and Wm. Kinsey over the week-end.

INSURANCE COMPANY SETTLES IN KY. KILLING

Editors Expose Abuse of Negro Labor

Kenneth Chapman, Herman Love and LeRoy McElroy are just three of the three thousand jobseekers stranded in California, as revealed in "Graphic's" exclusive story.

"Graphic," New Picture News-Magazine, Tells of 3000 Colored Harvesters Stranded in California

Brutal treatment accorded to 3000 Negroes imported to save the crops of California farmers, is vividly exposed in the first issue of "Graphic," new national picture news-magazine which has just made its appearance.

The article, entitled "Poor Suckers—They Didn't Get Jobs," reveals how California farmers inveigled colored men into leaving their homes in the Deep South to come there and work on the crops—and how the Southern Pacific Railroad lured them with promises of work on the railroad.

And then, when the men recruited by this hit-and-miss system arrived, there were no jobs for them! All they could do was loaf around, for they had no homes, no money, no place to go.

These recruits were given a dizzy roundabout, left stranded without food and lodging, penniless in a strange, suspicious community.

The fruit needed picking and these men needed jobs. Yet they were allowed to wander jobless.

And while these American Negroes were being stalled off from their promised jobs, the federal government's own State Department was laying plans to import thousands of laborers from Mexico to pick the fruit!

A sum of $500,000 was to be appropriated to bring in these Mexicans to the very spot where Negroes already were, begging for work!

Although ponderous statements from the War Manpower Commission declared that no Mexican labor should be imported until all available domestic labor had been used, the Negroes were not employed.

That half-million dollars is ready—and it's the Mexicans who will be received with open arms!

Though most of the Negroes had been lured by the promise of jobs at El Paso, few of the trains bearing the men even stopped at El Paso. Most of them wound up at Los Angeles, then were shuttled around the Pacific Coast, each station disclaiming responsibility for the strays.

No social agency, no employment bureau, no health clinic turned a hand for the helpless young Negroes.

Today weighty machinery is in motion to bring in the Mexicans instead.

If they are accorded the same hit-and-miss treatment, they won't like it any better than the Negroes did.

CHICAGO GETS NEW HOUSING, ARCHITECT

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Lemuel G. McDougal, well known Negro architectural engineer, has been named chief superintendent for the Associated Housing Architects' construction of the Robert H. Brooks homes, an 834 unit war housing project for Negroes, stated an announcement by the Chicago Housing Authority.

McDougal was born in Chicago and received his public school education here. He was graduated from the Brainerd elementary school, and attended Calumet and Lane Technical high schools. The engineer also finished courses at Armour Institute of Technology and the Chicago Technical college.

Gael Sullivan, federal housing administration director for Illinois, announced that construction will begin within ten days on a privately financed housing project for war workers.

The project, to be known as Princeton Park, will contain homes for nine hundred families with units of from four and one-half to five and one-half room apartments, and two story homes of four, six and eight rooms. It will be built at an estimated cost of four and one-half million dollars.

Priorities have been granted for construction of the initial 230 units of housing unit of the four and one-half and five and one-half variety. Rent scales of $47.50 for the four and one-half rooms have been announced.

The first group of 230 two-story homes will be in 38 separate buildings each house containing its individual basement with furnace and laundry facilities. All homes will have front and rear porches. The buildings will be maintained by the Princeton Park trust, a group of Chicagoans, headed by Donald O'Toole of Donald O'Toole & Co., real estate operators. Included in the rent will be garbage and ash removal, gas cooking range, automatic refrigerator, auto parking space, some decorating and lawn maintenance.

NEW YORK RAPS ORPHANAGES FOR RACE BIAS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (ANP)—New York struck a sharp blow at discrimination Thursday when William Hodson, commissioner of the department of welfare, acting upon orders from Mayor LaGuardia, announced that the city was withdrawing support from five charitable institutions which practiced racial discrimination in the admission of inmates. The result was, Commissioner Hodson said, that 405 white children were being withdrawn from the following orphanages: American Female Guardian Society and Home for the Friendless, located in the Bronx; Orphan Asylum Society of the City of New York; Hastings on the Hudson; Orphan Asylum Society of Brooklyn; Saint Mary's in the Field, Yonkers; New York and Society for the Relief of Half-Orphan and Destitute Children.

All of the institutions which refused to receive Negro children are Protestant. Among the institutions which the city pays from $6 to $7 per week for the care of children are 27 which are Protestant, 24 which are Catholic and ten which are Jewish. There are no institutions of this type maintained or run by Negroes.

Mr. Hodson said that spokesmen from the five institutions involved asserted that it was not practical to accept a policy to have Negro and white children in the same home and that it was "too difficult" to try and solve the problem. He said Mayor LaGuardia had tried to have them reverse their position without avail and quoted the mayor as saying, "I am seriously grieved and pained that we have to face a situation like this at this time in the world's history."

Commissioner Hodson insisted that "We are fighting this war to prove that there is no master race and that all races are entitled to equal opportunity." He said also that his department contended that all children must be cared for under one roof, that the department did not direct how they must be cared for, simply that there must be no discrimination practices.

It is noted in this regard that in the non-presidential years, approximately 75 per cent more votes were cast for federal offices in the Democratic primaries than were cast for Republican, Democratic and all other candidates in the general election.

The lower court had refused to follow the classic ruling asserting that while it might hold for Louisiana where the primaries are an integral part of the election system, it did not hold for Texas where primaries are the "private affair" of the Democratic Party.

In answer, the union's brief points out that the Texas law makes mandatory that the Democratic Party nominate by primary, that the primary procedure is regulated by statute, and that therefore the primaries are an integral part of the election system.

The union's brief was signed by Arthur Garfield Hayes, general counsel.

HOSPITAL MEN EYE FINANCE

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 13. (ANP)—Administration and financing of hospitals during war-time will be the theme of the third annual meeting of the Tri-State Conference of Hospital Administrators to be held at the Kate Bittling Reynolds Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem, N. C., on Nov. 5 and 6. It was announced by S. Tanner Stafford, secretary of the group which includes 20 hospitals in Virginia and North and South Carolina.

Featured speakers will be E. R. Carney, superintendent of Parkside Hospital, Detroit, and Dr. W. Roderick Brown of Pittsburgh, consultant, field casualty section, Office of Civilian Defense, Washington.

Dr. Brown will explain how colored hospitals may qualify for financial assistance from the federal government. The Tri-State is the trail-blazer among regional hospital associations, being the first one organized. It also boasts the largest membership. Its purposes are to secure better service for patients and higher standards for hospitalization among their members.

Reynolds Memorial Hospital, where the sessions will be held, it was disclosed, is one of the finest in the South for Negro patients. However, with one exception, the entire medical and administrative staffs are composed of whites.

It is the hope of the association that through its meeting in this institution the advisability of integrating more Negroes in the medical and administrative staffs will be apparent to the trustees of Reynolds.

William M. Rich, superintendent of Lincoln Hospital, Durham, N.C., is president of the conference, which Mr. Stafford, administrator of Norfolk Community Hospital, is secretary. Dr. L. C. Downing, superintendent of Burrell Memorial Hospital, Roanoke, Va., is vice president and Mrs. Geneva Collins Hunt, superintendent of the L. Richardson Memorial Hospital, Greensboro, N. C., is treasurer.

OPA RENT OFFICIALS LAUGH THIS ONE OFF

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 13. (ANP)—Local OPA officials are reported to be still laying in the aisle with laughter over the amusing request of a landlord to increase his rents.

The application filed last Saturday asked permission to hike the rental fee 50 cents weekly because the tenant's family had increased in size causing the cost of "special services" to rise "tremendously."

The "special service" included payment of the bill for toilet paper!

BROWN CHARTS RACE PROGRAM FOR THE FUTURE

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (ANP)—The Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council, irresponsible and frequently single-handed advocate of various programs to advance the cause of the race, Monday outlined the program which he expects to pursue during the next congress as he rested a bit after arduous efforts to help the Republican party reduce the number of Democratic congressmen elected Tuesday.

Mr. Brown had spent some time in Illinois particularly these past few weeks in an effort to help Sen. Wayland Brooks, Republican, seeking reelection with the support of the powerful Chicago Tribune.

Stave off attacks by the Mayor Kelly-Nash machine—Brown, who recently deserted the Democratic party to return to his first love, republicanism, was able to bring an intimate picture of the manner in which things were done in Washington to the audiences which, he said, he had heard here.

A former chief of a New Deal bureau, Brown now devotes his time to lobbying in the interest of Negro measures and to the work of the council which he heads.

"The following," said Mr. Brown, "are the four point post-election demands and the 'must' program for 12,000,000 colored people."

"Lower rents in Chicago; New York City, federal rent control and rent ceilings in both cities as now approved by OPA for Detroit and Cleveland."

Representation without discrimination for Negroes on the 800 OPA local price and rationing boards throughout the country.

"Immediate construction of war-housing units up to $600,000 already authorized by congress for Chicago, New York and other metropolitan areas to relieve congestion and provide homes for Negro workers from the south, now migrating again to northern industrial areas."

"Passage of the Geyer federal anti-lynching legislation, now on speaker's desk, before present congress expires Dec. 31, 1942."

Mr. Brown said that if the Republicans made the clean sweep he confidently expected, the Democrats will be willing to produce much more in the way of legislation benefits for fear of further defection.

It commented bitterly upon a page advertisement appearing in behalf of Democrat McKeough with Walter White's picture in it pointing out that the ad was deliberate misrepresentation because it said the NAACP could not endorse candidates and then showed White's endorsement of McKeough by indirection.

WIDOW WHOSE

Husband Was Slain By Agent Wins Point

SHELBY VICTIM WINS $2,000 FOR FREIGHT INJURY

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13. (ANP)—Robert W. Johnson, 24, father of four children, who was severely injured by a freight train of the Southern Railroad on Aug. 4, when he attempted to crawl between two box cars just as the freight started off, causing his legs to be badly mangled, was successful last week in reaching a settlement for $2,000 with the railroad company.

After the accident, several lawyers and friends of Johnson expressed the view that he had little or no chance of establishing a claim for damages since he climbed between the freight cars himself and was not employed by the company. However, Johnson and his family sent to Louisville for Charles W. Anderson, Jr., attorney and state representative, to prosecute his claim.

Atty. Anderson found that the freight train had blocked the street and highway crossings at Shelbyville for more than an hour and at the time Johnson was injured. The attorney finally dug up an old state law enacted in 1893, which prohibits a train or freight from blocking any crossing for more than five minutes.

After the shooting, the widow employed Charles W. Anderson, Jr., local attorney, to represent her, and for the past two years various claims of Mrs. Sartin have been fought in the courts of Jefferson County.

In February, 1941, the insurance agent was indicted for murder and brought to trial in the criminal court. He claimed that he shot Sartin in self-defense, and a jury, composed of a colored man, a white woman, and 10 white men exonerated Murrell.

Immediately after Murrell was freed of criminal liability, Mrs. Sartin filed a suit against the insurance company and Murrell for $25,000 claiming that the insurance company was liable for the acts and conduct of its agents, and that the company had been notified of previous misconduct on the part of its agent, Murrell.

Previously, Evan Walker, and H. W. Coleman were associated with Atty. Anderson in representing Mrs. Sartin.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (ANP)—The Association for Study of Negro Life and History prize winners were announced here Thursday by Dr. Carter G. Woodson on the eve of the opening sessions of a three day meet. Two members of Howard university's faculty are included among the four. First prize of $50 for the best book review contributed to the Journal of Negro History goes to Dr. Marion Thompson Wright of the department of education, and the second prize of $25 was awarded to Dr. Gertrude B. Rivers of the department of English.

Other prizes included first prize of $100 for the best article submitted to the journal during the year. It went to Prof. Bernard H. Nelson of Clark College at Atlanta. The second prize of $50 for the next best article went to Dr. J. S. Harris of the Ohio State university.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Since 1925, when an American rubber firm leased a 77,000 acre tract from the Liberian Government for the cultivation and production of rubber, the only free state in the huge continent of Africa has grown in importance.

Even more so now with the shortage of rubber in this country and the possibility of raw material becoming more and more scarce; for it is to Liberia and its experimental plantations that this country is turning.

The town of Marshall is the most important rubber port. Here extensive improvements have been made because the country has no good natural harbors. Big ships have to anchor at least two miles off shore to load and unload their cargoes. Four thousand five hundred miles from New York, with only 261 American citizens in the country, the important factor is that the friendly relation existing between Liberia and the United States has been solidified because of the present world crisis.

Because of its fertile soil, excellent pasture lands and rich mineral deposits, Liberia, which is about the size of the State of Ohio, gives promise of considerable wealth.

But it is the promise of rubber production which makes the African Republic important to the United States.

In 1925, the rubber exported from Liberia totalled between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 pounds, a small fraction of the world's production. However, in 1941, it jumped to more than 14,000,000 pounds, a more respectable figure.

Intense cultivation promises to raise this figure and as the production of rubber increases, the economic condition of the country progresses and the nation prospers.

Now with American troops in Liberia, the military aspect of the Republic grows in stature. It is close to the questionable area of Senegal, where the French fleet rests at Dakar, the best port on the West Coast of Africa. Some apprehension is felt generally over the future of Dakar, with military experts' being of the unanimous opinion it would be better off in the hands of the United Nations than their enemies. This again adds to the importance of the little state founded by free Negroes in 1847. Only recently, the Liberian Government declared the American dollar a standard medium of exchange along with present English money widely used.

The future of Liberia is definitely tied up with the future of the United Nations, and it is up to Liberia to see that part of the famous freedoms reaches her shores when the war finally ends.

JIM CROW OR NO, IS RICHMOND'S BIG QUESTION

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 13. (ANP)—A question which is giving rise to more than ordinary discussion here in Richmond this week is whether Negroes do or do not want a rationing board composed entirely of Negroes serving them under the Office of Price Administration. Brig. Gen. J. Fulmer Bright, state OPA director, appointed such a board in setting up his state organization. On it he named three prominent Richmonders: C. L. Townes, secretary of the Virginia Mutual Insurance Co.; Roscoe Mitchell, former newspaperman and St. Elmo Reeds. The committee, which was equal in size to a similar white group set up in the downtown district, opened its separate offices in the Southern Aid building Monday.

A considerable segment of the population seemed not to understand the functions of the new board. This group protested to Gen. Bright. Organizations which the disaffected persons represented were the NAACP, the International Ministerial association, the Masons and the Baptist Ministers' conference. The committee which visited Gen. Bright called the Negro board, "An extension of the program of separation of the races generally regarded as Jim Crowism."

"The war price and ration board is a federal organization and the federal government doesn't recognize any separation of the races," Dr. Leon A. Reid, spokesman for the group, said. "The customs of a local community shouldn't be injected. It's just like setting up two postoffices here."

"I am trying to get to the bottom of this discussion," said Chairman Townes. "So far I believe the sentiment of the Negro people is divided on the issue, but that as many or more favor the separate board as oppose it."

Chairman Townes indicated that the members of the Negro board would sit tight and refuse to resign until some further action was taken in the matter. In the meantime under the leadership of the Rev. W. A. Brown of the First Baptist church, a protest meeting was being organized to register the attitude of the protestants.

BAPTIST SCHOOL GETS GRANT

CHANGE ARMY SPECIALISTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (ANP)—Abolishing the army specialist corps as such and bringing it under the immediate control of the war department brings about a puzzling situation for two Negroes who have been given assignments through that unit. The two William Butcher of Howard university and Wen Thert of New York, had specialized in dramatics and choral work respectively and sent to Fort Huachuca.

Never friendly toward the usage of Negroes in the Corps, the unit had been proven inefficient through an investigation of its operation.

Three hundred thousand persons above the draft age had made application for work, many of them high priced technicians and experts in their respective fields. Only 3,000 had been placed, although the war department had requested 50,000 men needed to replace men necessary for the conduct of the war.

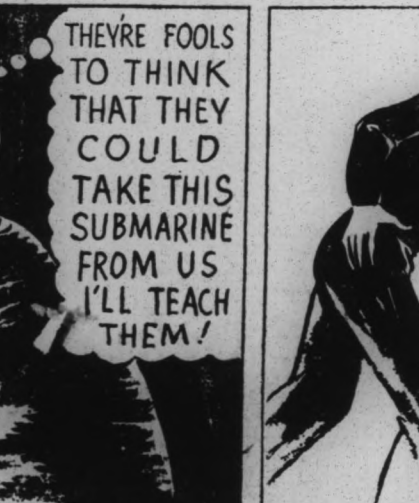

Non-military, although uniformed and receiving pay equivalent to that of officers, the army specialists' corps was organized by executive order in February of this year.

The director was Dwight W. Davis, who has been invited to remain in an advisory capacity temporarily. Men now in the service will be made along military lines, the recipients holding commissions according to the specialty in which they are engaged and their own abilities.

E. Daniel to whom the announcement was made last week.

In order to receive benefits from the contribution Shaw university is required, according to the terms of the grant, to raise a similar sum within an assigned period.

AN APPRECIABLE CITATION

The United States Navy has lifted in recent months certain restrictions on the enlistment of Negro seamen. This change in policy of the Navy is not news at this late date, but the enlistment of Negro youths in the Navy is invited today. Further the Navy during the month of October solicited the enlistment of (3000) three thousand men from the State of Indiana.

Negro youths were included in the Indiana State quota for the month of October. The RECORDER joined in, to promote the call of the United States Navy for men from Indiana. The RECORDER has entertained the opinion, yesterday and today, that enlistment of Negro youths in the Navy is finally beneficial to the youths. Again at no profit finally to the RECORDER, and no expense or bother to the Indiana Offices of the U. S. Navy an appeal was made to the Negro youths of the great State of Indiana.

However the appeal was made possible also by, or through the cooperation of several of the leading industrial and manufacturing firms or organizations of the city, state and nations. Many groups or organizations were interested in the promoting of Navy enlistment. Among these, the Indiana Navy Boosters' Club makes a year-round every day job of promoting the cause and program of the Navy.

The Indiana Navy Boosters' Club has on its membership roster some of the leading civic, business and industrial executives of the city and state. The Indiana Navy Boosters' Club has seen fit to cite the RECORDER in a "Certificate of Appreciation" on the reproduction of a full-page display noting "Navy Day" October 27th, 1942, and further inviting Negro youths to join the Navy.

The RECORDER in turn expresses an appreciation of the citation by those interested in the promotion of the Navy's program. Again the part of the RECORDER, or its purpose has been to serve the nation, our state and the people. However when those served find it fitting to commend our various efforts of service, WE of the RECORDER are mindful of the human tendencies of pride, in the slight inclinations of one's fellow men to note the worthy effort expressed. Finally WE are always for a greater Navy, a RECORDER prepared for better and greater service and a better understanding among the various peoples, who have in the past, and who will in the future give their all to the best nation upon the whole earth.

HOME OWNERSHIP

Thousands of Negro factory or industrial workers in this city or community are earning bigger wages on account of war work. Some of these workers are earning more than they have earned in the last twenty years. Some of these workers are earning more money than they have ever earned in their lives. Reports coming from far and near indicate, that much of this income could be spent more wisely.

Unfortunately, it appears, a majority of Negro people live in keeping with resources on hand today. Today is a day of pleasure, if the necessary price is in one's pockets. Yesterday is forgotten, days past of unhappy lot are a matter of jest among those throwing their unpromised substance away.

There is serious need for the individual of any practical turn to begin considering; how long these days of exceptional wages will last? The practical individual must begin making preparations for days when war work is far behind us. The acquiring of a home is one of the most practical steps the war worker may take.

Many home properties are available in the city or the community. Quite a few of these are offered at prices or on terms, within the reach of the general defense worker who is now paying rent some place. Own your home is again a sure step towards security for the individual and those to whom the worker may be directly responsible. The difference between the earnings today and the earnings a few years ago of many workers is not expended necessarily in the increased cost of living.

The chances are the undue prosperity of the war worker may last two or three years, or longer, but the after while may, or may not hold high promise for the presently prosperous laborer or war worker. Some of the best advice, a war worker may follow is to "own your home," and prepare for the uncertain things of the days, when the war is far behind us.

Before the roll is called up yonder, don't put God to the unpleasant task of calling your hand too often down here.

He's a wonderful man who goes on without complaining and does the best he can.

A hero is one who sees his duty and then refuses to let anyone stop him from doing it.

A man who stops because of what people say, can never expect to get very far along his way.

The man who tries faithfully to find out God's desire, need never have any fear of eternal hell-fire.

It seems the way of almost every man, to want to give out that which he is not willing to receive.

In view of the course of present day actions, the Scripture which reads, "many are called, but few are chosen," seems now more fittingly interpreted, "many are cold, but more are frozen."

Cruising

'Round

- 1.—WAR, the "reason why" of Walker Seats.
- 2.—Republicans' success defies in interpretation.
- 3.—Local daily paper failed in effort to inject race issue in election.

LAST WEEK we inquired why the seats at the Walker theatre were changed to hard seats in a somewhat critical manner. Mr. Bannister, manager of the Walker chain, comes forward with the explanation: a reasonable and logical why which has been accepted by the writer, and we hope the same will be accepted by the patrons for they know that the managers of the Walker chain have always kept their theatres open and span and at no time have they spared expense for the comfort of their patrons.

Mr. Bannister's explanation was—The original seats had been in the Walker theatre since it opened in 1927; they were worn out to such an extent that they not only damaged patrons' wearing apparel, but in many instances, fell to the floor carrying the would-be occupants with them. These bad seats were so numerous and so far beyond repair, the management ordered a complete set of new CUSHIONED chairs several months ago. They received the chairs minus the cushions, with the following information: "War priorities make it impossible to ship cushions at this time, will ship cushions as soon as possible."

The management had no alternative. They had to put in the hard seats. Therefore, I'm willing to sit hard at home that our boys may sit easy on the front. I hope you feel likewise.

MANY ARE the opinions why Republicans were so successful in last Tuesday's election, the main reason is the fact that only Republicans were running against the Democrats. In Indiana those who voted, voted against, and that vote was against doing their part in our war, the faulty selective service administration, and against a government which has shown a true intent in the common people, the majority of the people.

One of our local reactionary papers says that the people voted against the forty-hour week, in more outlandish conclusion could not have been drawn, a workingman would not vote to work more hours for less money, no more than a businessman would sell you more goods for less profit.

This paper of the reactionaries, however, needs to be complimented for being frank enough to say plainly that it wants repeal of the Rooseveltian social and labor legislation, while others take the under-hand methods of pretending to be fighting the war, when actually they are fighting labor and the common people.

The industrial workers, knowing that they were doing a fine and satisfactory war production job, did not think that their employers were organizing the election against them, did not vote to hold their gains—they forgot the old adage—The Price of Freedom is eternal vigilance.

THERE DOES not yet appear that there were any racial issues involved. Both parties carried Negroes on their tickets, both parties were active for Negro votes. The Republican northern vote, to extraordinary pains to see that their help and their families voted with representation in the city council, three in the legislature, we may not be wrong in saying that Indianians have increased their tolerance as to the matter of races.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING
Solving the rubber problem demands maximum co-operation on the part of the government, industry, and the public at large.

In the brief period in which Mr. Jeffers has had charge of the rubber program, he has cut a deal of the red tape that delayed and blocked progress in the past. His office, working with the Office of Defense Transportation, is aggressively pushing for results. It is to be hoped that politics is kept out of the way—and that the defeatists who say that this country must reconcile itself to doing without motor transportation will keep their mouths shut.

The industries which are involved in the rubber program are doing an excellent job. The oil industry has vastly expanded its facilities for the production of synthetic rubber, and has simplified, improved and accelerated the manufacturing process. The tire companies are now making casings out of reclaimed rubber and synthetic rubber which give fair service if properly used. And chemical companies are increasing their production of synthetic rubbers made from coal, grain alcohol, etc.

The experts are convinced that American ingenuity, American chemical genius, and American production methods can provide enough rubber to keep our vital automobiles rolling. In the meantime, the obligation of the public is clear. We should cheerfully accept the 35 miles-an-hour speed limit, no one should waste rubber on unnecessary driving. And ever car owner should have his tires periodically inspected, and switched about on the wheels so that maximum mileage may be obtained.

No nation on earth is so dependent on individual transportation. Our cars will be kept on the road if the synthetic rubber program is freed of the dead hand of bureaucracy, and the public will practice rigid conservation.

UNITY BEGINS HERE! NOW!

By Ruth Taylor

Today we speak often of national UNITY, of the UNITED STATES, of the UNITED Nations. But how often do we bring this much-to-be-desired unity down out of the blue sky of generalities into our everyday life?

National unity means just one thing. You and I and the man next door, the grocer down the street, the newsboy on the corner, the man who drives the bus we take to work or market—ALL OF US must work and fight together for our common ideal of good for ALL the people, regardless of class, race, creed or color.

This is a War of Survival. The old barriers have broken down. Men are fighting side by side regardless of their backgrounds. Americans all, they are fighting for the preservation of the right to work and live as free men. The

"Sit down, Bigger!"
"I hate her now, even though she's dead! God knows, I hate her right now!"
Max grabbed him and pushed back into the chair.

"Don't get excited, Bigger. Here, take it easy!"
Bigger quieted, but his eyes roved the room. Finally, he lowered his head and knotted his fingers. His lips were slightly parted.

"You say you hated her?"
"Yeah, and I ain't sorry she's dead..."

"But what had she done to you?"
"You say you had just met her?"
"I don't know. She didn't do nothing to me." He paused and ran his hand nervously across his forehead. "She... it was... I... I don't know. She asked me a lot of questions. She acted and talked in a way that made me hate her. She made me feel like a dog. I was so mad I wanted to cry..."

His voice trailed off in a plaintive whimper. He licked his lips. He was caught in a net of vague, associative memory; he saw an image of his little sister, Vera, sitting on the edge of a chair crying because he had shamed her by "looking" at her; he saw her rise and fling her shoe at him. He shook his head confused. "Aw, Mr. Max, she wanted me to tell her how Negroes live. She got into the front sea of the car where I was..."

"But Bigger, you don't hate people for that. She was being kind to you..."
"Kind, h...!" She wasn't kind to me."

"What do you mean? She accepted you as another human being."

"Mr. Max, we're all spilt up. What you say is kind ain't kind at all. I didn't know nothing about that woman. All I knew was that they kill us for women like her. We live apart. And then she comes and acts like that to me."

"Bigger, you should have tried to understand. She was acting toward you only as she knew how."

Bigger glared about the small room, searching for an answer. He knew that his actions did not seem logical and he gave up trying to explain them logically. He reverted to his feelings as a guide in answering Max.

"Well, I acted toward her only as I know how. She was rich. She and her kind own the earth. She and her kind say black folks are dogs. They don't let you do nothing but what they want..."

"But Bigger THIS woman was trying to help you!"

"She didn't act like that."

"How SHOULD she have acted?"
"Aw, I don't know, Mr. Max. White folks and black folks is strangers. We don't know what each other is thinking. Maybe she was trying to be kind; but she didn't act like it. To me she looked ed and acted like all other white folks."

"But she's not to be blamed for that, Bigger."

"She's the same color as the rest of 'em," he said defensively. "I don't understand, Bigger. You say you hated her and yet you say you felt like having her when you were in the room and she was drunk and you were drunk..."

"Yeah," Bigger said, wagging his head and wiping his mouth with the back of his hand. "Yeah, that's funny, ain't it?" He sucked at his cigarette. "Yeah, I reckon it was because I knew I oughtn't've wanted to. I reckon it was because they say we black men do that anyhow. Mr. Max, you know what some white men say we do? They say we rape white women when we got disease and say we do that because we believe that if we rape white women, then we'll get rid of the disease. That's what some white men SAY. They BELIEVE that. Jesus, Mr. Max, when folks say whupped before you born."

"What's the use? Yeah, I reckon I was feeling that way when I was in the room with her. They say we do things like that and they say it to kill us. They draw a line and say for you to stay on your side of the line. They don't care if there's no bread over on your side. They don't care if they die. And then they say things like that about you and when you try to come from behind your fire they kill you. They feel they ought to kill you then. Everybody wants to kill you then. Yeah, I reckon I was feeling that way and maybe the reason was because they say it. Maybe that was the reason."

"You mean you wanted to defy them? You wanted to show them that you dared, that you didn't care?"

"I don't know, Mr. Max. But what I got to care about? I know that some time or other they was going to get me for something. I'm black. I don't have to do nothing 'em to get me. The first white finger they point at me, I'm a goner, see?"

"But, Bigger, when Mrs. Dalton came into that room, why didn't you stop right there and tell her what was wrong? You wouldn't've been in all this trouble then..."

"Mr. Max, so help me God, I couldn't do nothing when I turned around and saw that woman coming to that bed. Honest to God, I didn't know what I was doing..."

"You mean you went blank?"
"Naw, naw... I knew what I was doing, all right. But I couldn't help it. That's what I mean. It was like another man stepped inside of my skin and started acting for me..."

"Bigger, tell me, did you feel more attraction for Mary than for the women of your own race?"
"Naw. But they say that. It ain't true. I hated her then and I hate her now."

"But why did you kill Bessie?"
"To keep her from talking. Mr. Max, after killing that white woman, it wasn't hard to kill anybody else. I didn't have to think much about killing Bessie. I knew I had to kill her and I did. I had to get away..."

"Did you hate Bessie?"

"Naw."

"Did you love her?"

"Naw. I was just scared. I wasn't in love with Bessie. She was just my girl. I don't reckon I was ever in love with nobody. I killed Bessie to save myself. You have to have a girl, so I had Bessie. And I killed her."

"Bigger, tell me, when did you start hating Mary?"

"I hated her as soon as she spoke to me, as soon as I saw her. I reckon I hated her before I saw her..."

"But, WHY?"

"I told you. What her kind ever let us do?"

"What, exactly, Bigger, did you want to do?"

"Nothing, I reckon, nothing. But I reckon I wanted to do what other people do."

"And because you couldn't you hated her?"

"Again, Bigger felt that his actions were not logical and again he fell back upon his feelings for a guide in answering Max's questions.

"Mr. Max, a guy gets tired of being told what he can do and can't do. You get a little job here and a little job there. You shine shoes, sweep streets, anything... You don't make enough to live on. You don't know when you going to get fired. Pretty soon you get so you can't hope for nothing. You just keep moving all the time, doing what other folks say. You ain't a man no more. You just work day in and day out so the world can roll on and other people can live. You know, Mr. Max, I always think of white folks..."

He paused. Max leaned forward and touched him.

"Go on, Bigger."

"Well, they own everything. They choke you off the face of the earth. They like God..."

"Yeah, I guess so," he said, straightening.

"How did you think you could be happy?"

"I don't know. I wanted to do things. But everything I wanted to do I couldn't. I wanted to do what the white boys in school did. Some of 'em went to college. Some of 'em went to the army. But I couldn't go."

"But still, you wanted to be happy."

"Yeah, sure. Everybody wants to be happy, I reckon."

"Did you think you ever would be?"

"I don't know. I just went to bed at night and got up in the morning. I just lived from day to day. I thought maybe I would be."

"How?"

"Yeah, sure. Everybody wants to be happy, I reckon."

sound, without moving his lips; it was three short expulsions of breath forced upward through his nostrils by the heaving of his chest.

"I wanted to be an aviator once. But they wouldn't let me go to the school where I was supposed to learn it. They built a big school and then drew a line around it and said nobody could go to it but those who lived within the line. That kept all the colored boys out."

"And what else?"

"Well, I wanted to be in the army once."

"Why didn't you join?"

"Hell, it's a Jim Crow army. All they want a black man for is to dig ditches. And in the navy, all I can do is wash dishes and scrub floors."

"And was there anything else you wanted to do?"

"Oh, I don't know. What's the use, now? I'm through, washed up. They got me. I'll die."

"Tell me the things you THOUGHT you'd have liked to do."

"I'd like to be in business. But what chance has a black guy got in business? We ain't got no money. We don't own no mines, no railroads, no nothing. They make us stay in one little spot..."

"And you didn't want to stay there?"

Bigger glanced up; his lips tightened. There was a feverish pride in his blood-shot eyes.

"I DIDN'T," he said.

Max stared and sighed.

"Look, Bigger, you've told me the things you could not do. But you did something. You committed these crimes. You killed two women. What on earth did you think you could get out of it?"

Bigger rose and rammed his hands into his pockets. He leaned against the wall, looking vacantly. Again he forgot that Max was in the room.

"I don't know. Maybe it sounds crazy. Maybe they going to burn me in the electric chair for feeling this way. But I ain't worried none about them women I killed. For a little while I was free. I was doing something. It was wrong, but I was feeling all right. Maybe God'll get me for it. If He do, all right. But I ain't worried. I killed 'em 'cause I was scared and mad. But I been scared and mad all my life and after I killed that first woman, I wasn't scared no more for a little while."

"What were you afraid of?"

"Everything," he breathed and buried his face in his hands.

"Did you ever hope for anything, Bigger?"

"What for? I couldn't get it. I'm black," he mumbled.

"Didn't you ever want to be happy?"

"Yeah, I guess so," he said, straightening.

"How did you think you could be happy?"

tributed a 30-yard run to place the hoghide in scoring position.

AWAITS PASS FROM CENTER.

Ray drew a little criticism from the gallery after he refused to eat the poor old Christian (Dellicurti) whom the heathen promoters had thrown into the arena. He had belted the alleged opposition in the early rounds and, having found that the Christian was indeed a meek and humble sort, merely pawed him with lion-like compassion throughout the remainder of the affair. He was credited not only with the unanimous verdict of the judges but with all rounds as scored by press writers. The Hatchet goes to the post again in a few days and his large following promises to be on hand.

HOOSIER PUG'S COACH WRITES IN FIGHT GUIDE

HAMPTON INST. — "Looking Back Ten Years in College Boxing" is the title of an article by Benson L. Dutton, boxing and wrestling coach at Hampton Institute, which appears in the 1942 Boxing Guide of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The article is believed to be the first ever written for the Guide by a Negro, and Hampton Institute is also the only colored college listed therein as having one of the leading college boxing teams in 1942.

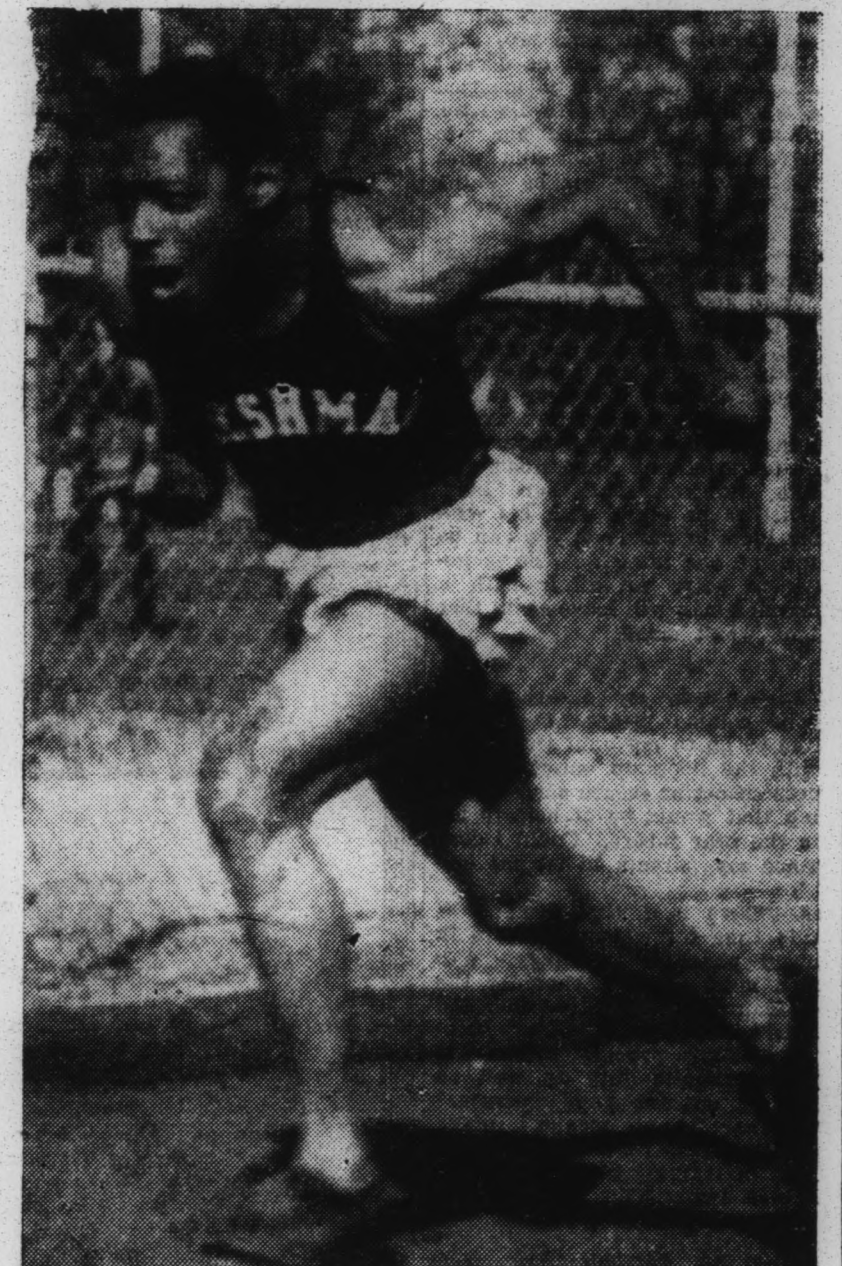

Dutton, who is a native of Philadelphia, has been employed at Hampton Institute since 1940, when he joined the staff as instructor in civil engineering. He has been boxing and wrestling coach since 1941.

A graduate of Pennsylvania State College, where he was on the boxing team for three years, Dutton last year led the Hampton boxing team to the C. I. A. A. boxing championship, and his team also tied for first place in wrestling. Two of the Hampton boxing champions, Charles Kirkland of Gary, Ind., 120 pounds, and Carl Fountain of Winston-Salem, N. C., 155 pounds, are still on the campus. A third, Richard Davis of Atlantic City, N. J., 126 pounds, has been called to the army and is now at Camp Dix. Norrence Jones of Philadelphia, 175 pounds, who held C. I. A. A. championship for two consecutive years at Hampton Institute, is also with the armed forces stationed in Florida.

Boxing training at Hampton starts on December 1. Bouts will be arranged with seamen on the campus and with soldiers at nearby military posts.

AAU Nominates Track Titan for Annual Sullivan Award

BARNEY EWELL

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (SNS) — Private Norwood "Barney" Ewell, former track star at Penn State was named here last week as the Middle Atlantic A. A. U.'s nominee for the Sullivan Award, which is awarded annually to the best amateur athlete in the United States.

Ewell is now in the United States army, but local track followers cannot forget his sensational record as a sprinter at Penn State. He was one of the most outstanding track stars in the country, until he pulled a tendon at the 1942 National Collegiate championships.

Set World Record.

Ewell started the year with a world record equalling 6.1 for 60 yards at the Millrose Games, and won the 60 at Boston A. A. meet. He won the indoor national championship at 60 yards in the record, equalling time of 6.2, and placed second in the broad jump. He set a new record for the intercollegiate championship broad jump at 25 feet, 2 1/2 inches, joining Jesse Owens and Eulace Peacock as the only 25-foot jumpers indoors.

Outdoors, Ewell won the Penn Relays broad jump at 24 feet 5 1/2 inches after unning several races the day before and two 220s while the broad jump was in progress. In a dual meet with Pittsburgh University he broke the world's record for 220 yards around a turn turning in 20.9 seconds. At the intercollegiate championships he became the first man in history to win a triple triple — three intercollegiate championships a year, three years in a row.

He broke the record in the 100 of which he was co-holder, and his own 220 record, but the records

SOUTHE'N HOSPITALITY

Shelved As Colonels Pour Oil on Green Wave

FRANKFORT, Nov. 13.—In an almost unbelievable fashion, the Kentucky State College Thorobreds, mighty representatives of the mid-West slaughtered Wilberforce University Saturday by the score of 39 to 0, to hand the visitors their first defeat of the season, to remain undefeated and unscored upon themselves, and to retain the honor of never losing a Home-Coming game on Alumni Field in Frankfort. The visitors were no match for the Thorobreds today and never threatened, to the surprise of some 5,000 fans who braved inclement weather to witness the contest.

The Kentuckians began their scoring in the first three minutes of the contest. Profiting by a poor punt by Captain Ebbs, the Thorobreds began their march from the Wilberforce 30. Bullet Bill Bass scampered around end for 16 yards to the 15. At this point Freshman Back Cummings, 185 pounds of dynamite, replaced Bass and drove to the five-yard line on his first ball-carrying effort. On the third down, Cummings streaked around end for the score. Co-captain Cyrus place-kicked the extra point. The second touchdown began from the Kentucky 47. A Cummings to Cyrus pass, followed by a lateral to Freshman End Dawson, placed the ball on the Wilberforce 21. From here Cummings passed to Quarterback Matthews for the second touchdown. Cyrus' placement failed. A punt by Bass followed by a clipping penalty to the Force one-yard line set up the third score. Ebbs' punt from deep in his end zone traveled to his own 30. A 30-yard pass from Bass to Walker chalked up the third score. Cyrus' placement was good. With a minute to play in the half, Kentucky struck again. Bass' 25-yard run of Ebbs' punt placed the ball on Wilberforce's 15, from which point Bass passed to Matthews for another score. The half ended a play or two later.

A punting duel characterized the first part of the second half. Late in the third quarter a fumble by Ebbs set up another Kentucky score. From the Force 18 Bass passed to Hatcher to the five. An offside penalty on Wilberforce placed the ball on the one, where Bass took it over on the next play. Bass' attempted placement failed. Late in the final quarter Cummings got loose again. From the Force 44, Cummings paced to Matthews for seven yards, then carried to the 26 himself. From the 26 on a beautiful cutback play, Cummings raced through the entire Wilberforce team to score standing up.

Walker converted to make the score read 39 to 0. This was perhaps the worst defeat in Wilberforce history, and gladdened the hearts of the thousands of fans who came to Frankfort to see the Kentuckians remain undefeated, tied, and unscored upon, the only Negro team in the country to boast of such a record.

Ebbs and Barnes in the backfield stood out for Force with Lots doing yeoman service in the line. The entire Kentucky team played the most brilliant game of the year, with Bass, Walker, Matthews and Cummings shining in the backfield, and Captain George Trawick, French, Jones, Anderson, and Cyrus doing exceptionally well in the line. Kentucky made nine first downs to Wilberforce's seven, complete delight passes out of 18 to Wilberforce's seven out of 26, and were penalized 40 yards to Wilberforce's 50.

FLYER TAKES MILES CLASSIC

FRANK DIXON

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Led by Frank T. Dixon, 34, the New York University cross-country team captured the metropolitan intercollegiate championship for the third straight year over the five mile Van Courtland Park course Tuesday, November 3, taking the first of the eight places. Manhattan finished second and Fordham, third.

Dixon's time, 26:43.4 was very fast and like his great Violet predecessor, Leslie MacMittell, the freshman star practically ran the rest of his competitors from the start. He led by 125 yards at the three-mile mark and, with a closing sprint, finished ahead of his team-mate Ray Zoellner, by 150 yards.

SOUTHERN VS. LINCOLN
SCOTLANDVILLE, La., Nov. 13. (ANP)—Something exciting, an unexpected, generally happens in all Southern university homecoming games.

That has been the tradition since Coach A. W. Mumford took over as "head man" of athletics here at Southern over six years ago, and this year figures to be even more exciting than previous games. The Cats have drawn the Lincoln University Tigers of Missouri as their opponents Nov. 14 heading the last Southern homecoming for the duration. Lincoln is a member of the Mid-Western Conference and enters the contest favored to give the Cats a tough fight.

Quite a few alumni and former students, both of the army and civilian life, have indicated that they would attend this game. Homecoming activities begin Friday night with a rousing pep program and bonfire. Prominent visitors will appear on the program as well as the rival coaches.

REYNOLDS STARS FOR OREGON
BUGENE, Ore., Nov. 13. (ANP) — Bob Reynolds, triple threat half-back ace, passed and helped run Oregon to an upset 14 to 7 victory Saturday over UCLA before a homecoming crowd of 8,000. It was the Californians' first conference loss of the year and temporarily checked their Rose Bowl ambitions.

In the first quarter a 25-yard pass from Reynolds to a team mate gave Oregon its first touchdown. A defensive lapse by Reynolds in the third gave the UCLA Bruins its score as he allowed a pass received to get behind him in the end zone and snare a pay-off heave.

But Bob soon made amends. In the final period he intercepted a Bruin pass on his two and returned 40 yards. During the ensuing touchdown drive, Reynolds converted to give the Cats a tough fight.

HATCHET CHOPS VIC HANDILY; BEAU VS. STOLZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. — Fight fans, having seen Rapid Ray Robinson, the Harlem Hatchet who has been cutting down the hopefuls for 127 bouts, dispose of Vic Delicurti in quite easy fashion in their tussle at Madison Square Garden last Friday night, now turn to the wrangle of the week-end—Allie Stolz, lightweight crown prince, and the crowdin' fightin' south'en son-of-a-gun Beau Jack. Winner of this little disagreement is doubtless the favorite to meet Champion Sammy Angott when that gent of the cauliflower clan reopens for business. This shindig promises to have all the gusto of an alley fight along Fishcat row and the fans are licking their chops. And now, another little word about the Harlem Hatchet Man—

W. H.—I am a young married woman 20 years old. I have been married a couple of months to a man I love very much. My problem is this... he has started drinking. Each week it gets worse. He comes home on pay-day broke. If not that, he doesn't come at all. Last week he stayed away two days. Do you advise me to continue to stay on with him, as he really can do good when he wants to.

Ans.—Yes, I do advise you to continue on with him and give your marriage a fair chance... but I don't contend that you should sit there and hold your hands and allow him to come in any hour of the night and any day he wants to. If you don't use your influence while you are young and newly married, you are just lost forever as having control over your husband is concerned. You can't lay down the law and demand a long list of dos and don'ts. But you certainly can let him know what you expect of marriage if you are to remain his wife. When he is sober and reasonable, you might sit down and have a heart-to-heart talk with him and let him know your mean business. Then get a job and let him see that you are independent of his support. In many cases, a definite understanding of this kind is all that it takes to put a marriage on the right basis.

Dot—About two weeks ago I went to a dance and while I was there I fell for a boy the minute I looked at him. I would like to be a very close friend of his and I would also like to know how I can get acquainted with him. Tell me would it be nice if I were to walk up to him and make myself acquainted? Of course, I am nice looking and dress nice so everyone says.

Ans.—This brazen method of introduction wouldn't put you in a very favorable light with this young man. If you are sincerely interested in meeting him, why don't you ask the young fellow he was with to introduce you? Sometimes young men are inclined to judge you by first impressions... and you don't want to give him the wrong ideas.

A. T.—I have completed high school and I am now taking a business course. I am doing fine. I would like to know if I will be successful in getting employment.

Ans.—Finish your course. You need not worry about employment. My suggestion is that you take the Civil Service examination. There are more openings in government service for stenographers now than there has ever been before.

R. W.—I really need a good husband. I have been going with this man about two years and he wants me to marry him. I am about 4 years older than he is, but he says he will get my divorce and we can get married right away. He says he will never save any money without a wife. He is real good to his mother and I believe he would be good to me.

Ans.—Two years is plenty long enough for this man to have made up his mind about you. He is still eager to marry you. You have known him long enough to know that he is an upright, conscientious man. I can think of no reason why you shouldn't marry him. In your case, this age difference wouldn't matter a great deal.

W. T.—I have a brother who has been married 3 years. His wife doesn't seem to want him to do anything for his own people. He seems to go her way and treats his own people cold for her sake. Now I don't think she cares anything about him only for his work. Answer this question and tell me what I can do for him.

Ans.—Just leave him alone and let him live his own life. Your family has little regard or respect for his wife and she knows it... and that is why she doesn't bother to come around you any more often. His first duty is toward her... not the family. Your sister-in-law wouldn't live with her husband if she didn't love him. But she doesn't have any intentions of having money that is rightfully hers doled out to someone else. Your brother would think a great deal more of you and other members of the family if you would accept his wife and recognize her.

A. M. C.—I am a girl 17 years old. I have been going with a boy for some time and now I am in love with him. He says that he loves me, but he doesn't act like he does. He is married and said he doesn't love his wife. That he only married her to have someone to help him with his business. Is he telling the truth?

Ans.—Men do marry for convenience. But to marry a girl in order to keep her working for him would hardly be termed convenient. For it would be far more costly to keep up a wife even though she did work than to pay an employee. There is something more on the ball than what he told you... and don't let him kid you that there isn't. Whether he stays with his wife for love or for love, you can be sure of one thing... he is going to stay. An affair with a married man will leave scars that time won't erase.

S. L.—Analyze my question in your column please. I would like to go to my aunt's this fall, with the hopes of entering business school or secure some training that would be of help to me in the near future. Could I convince my parents to let me go?

Ans.—There is a vital demand at this time for women workers in every phase of industry. Women must learn to shoulder the civilian responsibilities so the men will be free to fight. Convince your parents that it is your patriotic duty as well as looking out for your personal welfare. By all means, make the arrangements to take up some kind of training to enable you to hold a responsible job.

M. C.—I am worried. Will you tell me what to do. My husband and I were gloriously happy for the first year fixing up our little home. For the past four months he has changed. He doesn't seem to care for me anymore. People tell me he is running around with other women. But he tells me he still cares. Help me.

Ans.—A house built on sand will not stand under the storms of life. A union built without the foundation of marriage cannot endure the demands that life places on it. This does not necessarily mean that your common law husband does not love you. But he doesn't feel bound or obligated to you as he would with the security of legal marriage. There is but one way to handle this situation. You should demand that he take you as his wife legally.

W. M. S.—My aunt lives with my mother and I. She is very bossy as if we were living with her instead of her living with us. When my boy friend comes to see me, she sits in the same room with us. You would think she is having the date instead of me. For I can't get a word in edgewise. How long will it be before she makes a change?

Ans.—What have you done to show your aunt a good time since she has been there? She is only 27 years old... and likes a good time. She tries to run the house because she feels she's doing your mother a favor to take some of the responsibility off her shoulders. She horns in on your dates for lack of entertainment for herself. Why not have your dates bring some eligible fellows around to meet her? When she gets a boy friend of her own, she will go after him like a pick-pocket for a crowd and won't have any time to steal your thunder.

C. M. M.—I am planning on taking a correspondence course in nursing. Before I take any steps, I would like to know what you think about it. I want your answer right away as I do not want to spend any money if I am not going to profit by it.

Ans.—The only way you can learn nursing is by active experience. If you will enter some hospital for training, you will acquire this experience and have the opportunity to become a graduate nurse. A correspondence course would probably familiarize you with the duties of a practical nurse... but you want more than just that. Don't be satisfied with anything less than a B. N.

Two-Man Jap Submarine on War Bond Tour

—Official U. S. Navy Photos

Navy turns over midget undersea craft, (pictured above at left, as it was captured on fateful December 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor) to Treasury Department to promote sale of War Bonds in hundreds of cities from coast-to-coast. Its visit to this state will be under the direction of our War Savings State Administrator instead of a Tokyo war lord. These two photos tell their own story of how the sub's stab-in-the-back venture backfired.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Millions of Americans will have the opportunity to study at close range the suicide two-man Japanese submarine, which was captured during Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on fateful December 7, 1941, the Treasury Department announced today.

Mounted on a huge truck and tractor rig, the submersible, nicknamed "The Tojo Cigar" by its captors, has been turned over to the War Savings Staff for a coast-to-coast tour to promote the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Along with War Bond rallies, there will be naval recruiting activities in communities in which the submarine will be shown. Starting in San Francisco, the tour winds through California and then heads Eastward by way of the Southwest. Ports have been cut in its sides and walkways installed to give the public a good view of the deadly craft. The undersea craft went aground on Oahu Island after it had vainly fired one torpedo at an American cruiser. The commander was seized as he attempted to swim to safety. The other member of the crew drowned.

The "Tojo Cigar" was still carrying the two 18-foot torpedoes when captured. It had a cruising range of only 200 miles. Its construction indicated it was truly a suicide ship. Launched overboard from the deck of a large ship by cranes, it was never expected to return to the mother vessel. The midget submarine is 41 feet long, has a beam of 5 feet, and a conning tower 4½ feet above the deck. The hull is constructed of one-quarter inch plate, and is divided into five compartments, two of which are occupied by the electric batteries used for propulsion. The hull and conning tower are streamlined and painted black.

The submarine was propelled by electric motors only and had a designed speed of 24 knots. The periscope of the submarine projects five feet above the top of the conning tower. The tiny ship is an oversized sardine can. The batteries, electric motor, torpedo tubes and controls left little room in the four compartments for the two-man crew. The ship carried emergency food rations which included wine and some liquor. The Navy has removed its engines and torpedoes for study.

Gary Triple Slayer Dies in Gun Fight

Cite Hoosier For Service

RICHMOND.—A certificate of appreciation for uncompensated service rendered in the administration of the Selective Service System for one year has been awarded a local doctor. He is Dr. R. F. Harwell (left) who is showing the certificate to Dennis Kendall, clerk of the Wayne Local Board 1. Dr. Harwell makes cursory examinations and blood tests for all Negro men selected by the Richmond board for possible military service. The certificate is signed by President Roosevelt, Governor Schricker, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, U. S. Selective Service director, and Col. Robinson Hitchcock, State Selective Service head. Other examining doctors of the board, Dr. F. P. Buche, Dr. Horace Waininger, and Dr. W. R. Taylor, also received awards.

NECROLOGIES

(By Ricardo Weeks for ANP)
Tread lightly here, oh, tragic players,
Lest ye trouble those who sleep.
Weep softly when ye join the group,
Who come to lay a loved one deep.

Tread lightly and weep softly here.
Trouble not these quiet souls,
Whom God has given up to rest.
For having played their worldly roles.

YES, SIR, THEY'RE GETTING THEIR A B C'S

Children all over the United States have been learning their A B C's, but millions of them have not been getting their A B C's in valuable vitamins.

These youngsters are getting theirs in a delicious school lunch which nourishes their growing bodies and keeps them strong and mentally alert. The American-grown farm products used in these lunches are provided by the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Last school year 1,140,784 colored children received lunches under the Community School Lunch Program.

10 HELD SINCE JUNE RELEASED IN VICE INQUIRY

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 13. (ANP) Writs of habeas corpus in the case of 10 persons held incommunicado in vice cases in county jail here since last June were granted last week to Arnold Crighton, attorney for the NAACP, after which the state commission on urban colored population was directed by Gov. Charles Edison to inquire into treatment accorded Negro men and women in the investigation of vice conditions in Bayonne by Hudson County authorities. Petition for the writ was signed by relatives of the prisoners after no attorneys were allowed to see them. The prisoners were arrested in raids in June. Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, will appear for the defendants in their next scheduled hearing. "Liberty consists not in doing what one wishes but in doing what one ought."

"Human blood is all one color."

West Virginia State Buys $93,000 In U. S. War Bonds

COUNCIL DIRECTS CAMPAIGN: Through the energy of the Student Council of West Virginia State College at Institute, West Virginia, more than $93,000 worth of United States War Bonds and Stamps have been sold. Students, faculty members, and the school community all cooperated with the Student Council under the direction of Sherman Smith, president, and George H. Kydd, secretary.

Regular purchasing stands and booths are maintained by the Student Council, operated by various committees chosen by council members.

West Virginia State has an enrollment of more than 1,000 men and women.

ANDERSON, RICHMOND SELECTEES

ANDERSON, Nov. 13. — Twelve draft registrants were sent to Army induction and medical center at Indianapolis last Friday by local boards for examination. The men accepted will be inducted into the Army, but returned here for a furlough.

The men inducted, including the first eleven from Area 2, and the last man from Area 1, are: John D. Patton, 1504 Sherman st.; Willie Hayden, 1517 Lincoln st.; Leonard Daniels, 1816 Hendricks st.; Willie Gray, 323 W. Sixteenth st.; John Alexander Ransaw, 1430 Madison, ave.; Virgil Francis Boone, 1615 Sheridan st.; Albert Lee Wright, 2404 So. Landess st.; Marion, Ind.; Harry Western Terry, 1608 Fairview st.; James Arthur Tolbert, 1816 Hendricks st.; James Farley, 907 West Seventeenth st.; Hughsten Broadnax, 1310 Locust st.; Gordon Rethford, 1244 Cincinnati ave.

Categories Explained

Both local draft boards are engaged in re-grouping approximately 6,000 registrants in Class 1 in accordance with categories based on occupations and dependents, for future calls. Under the plan and new regulations no distinction is made in deferment of men with wives who are working or are unemployed. Under new draft rules the status of a married man is not impaired if his wife is employed, in view of the fact that many wives must be called into war industries. Briefly the new categories and in the order of possible induction call follow: 1, single men, with no dependents; 2, single men, with collateral dependents employed in non-essential work; 3, single men, with collateral dependents, in essential war work; 4, married men, in non-essential work; 5, married men, in essential war work; 6, married men, with children, in non-essential work; 7, married men, with dependent children, in essential war work.

Twenty Richmondites were included in selective calls which left Friday morning for an examination at an army induction center. Seven of the group were from Sims in Wayne Local Board 1, while the remaining three were called by Board 2 at Cambridge.

Leaving from Richmond were Harold J. Arthur, Edward Carpenter, Pershing E. McCown, John Tevis, John B. Clark, Cornell L. Fletcher, Leonard Henderson, Andrew Longmore, Francis C. Hiatt, R. C. Bennett, Pressell S. Wilson, Allie Vontross, Calvin Poindexter, Robert C. Fox, Ernest Allen, Chas. H. Reed, and Lawrence Dawkins, a transferee from Nashville, Tenn. Allen was leader of the contingent.

The Cambridge City board sent Webster Landrum, John Pell Weaver, and Joseph Lloyd Burden. While the program is reaching 45,000 Negro youths in New York, it is still largely concentrated in rural areas. The survey shows that two-thirds of the children and 83% of the schools are situated in population areas of 2,500 or less. Mississippi leads the list for Negro participation with 191,063. South Carolina is second with 189,269, and Georgia is third with 184,996.

The School Lunch program is a co-operative effort. Important contributions are made by the Work Projects Administration, Parent-Teacher associations, state and city departments of education, home economics teachers, Extension Service, Farm Security Administration, state and local nutrition committees, civic clubs, and other agencies and groups.

Schools that may receive foods distributed by the Agricultural Marketing Administration from state operated warehouses are certified locally on the basis of eligible children. The foods supplied by AMA are usually supplemented by items provided by the local sponsoring agency. Many schools help round out their menus by operating garden and canning projects in connection with the program.

Under the liberalized program all the children in a school are often certified for participation even though some of them are not classified as needy. In such instances the children who can afford it pay something less than cost for their lunch, others pay the cost of the lunch or a little more.

The survey shows that 62% of the children received their lunch free, 24% paid something less than cost, and 14% paid the cost of their lunch, or a little more. In schools where facilities are available, complete hot or cold lunches, or lunches consisting principally of one hot dish can be prepared. But where facilities are not available, the program has been limited to incomplete cold lunches. Figures show that more than three-fifths of the children received complete lunches, one-fifth received

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (ANP) — Walter McClam, 43, a steel worker who killed two men and a woman and stabbed a second woman in Gary, Ind., was shot to death here Wednesday after he resisted capture. Policeman Edward R. Anderson, who killed McClam, was wounded in the fight which preceded the slayer's death.

McClam, a resident of Gary, killed his estranged wife, Ada, 36; Alfred Degan, 18, a roomer in her home, and Sylvester Douglas, 33, his brother-in-law. The woman wounded was Douglas' wife, Ernestine, 34, sister of Mrs. McClam.

Gary police said McClam broke into his estranged wife's home before 6 a. m., Wednesday morning, shot and stabbed Degan as he slept, then stabbed his wife to death. Shortly afterward he drove to the Douglas home, stabbed Douglas 10 times, and the latter's wife twice.

McClam fled to Chicago after the triple slaying and hid in the basement apartment of a relative, Osceola McClam, where he was trapped by a detective bureau squad. The slayer escaped to the yard, hiding in a refuse pile, and opened fire, wounding Policeman Anderson. A dozen police squads from other stations then were called into the fight and then were called into the refuse pile behind which McClam had hidden. His body was riddled with bullets when the fight was over.

Princeton, Ind.

Miss Beulah Vaughn, was called to Duluth, Minn., because of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Bernice Nickols. Andrew Walden and Mrs. Marcella Madison, are on the sick list. Mrs. Maud Harmon spent the week-end in St. Louis the guest of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Altridg Harmon. Pvt. Elmer Alenworth of Camp Gordon, Ga., is visiting his wife, Mrs. Flora Alenworth. Mrs. Lizzie Lyles, returned home Saturday from the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Horne Stewart, who has been seriously ill at her home in Evansville.

Pvt. Melton Pannell, Co. 49th Q. M. Trk. Regt., Camp Howze, Texas, spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Corney Pannell. Mrs. Hazel Roundtree left Wednesday to visit in Indianapolis with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Erma Roundtree and her daughter Mrs. Wm. Sims in Muncie before returning home. Rev. Brown, pastor Wayman AME church, preached a very inspiring sermon Sunday afternoon at Bethel AME church. It was a War Remembrance service sponsored by the Sunday school of Bethel church and in honor of parents and other relatives of American service men. A Tea was held in the basement following the sermon. Rev. A. H. Davis, pastor, Carl C. Lyles Sunday school superintendent, and other relatives of American service men. Revival services at Calvary Methodist church under direction of Evangelist, H. O. McCutchen of Evansville, are reported by pastor Rev. D. C. Bowman as progressing satisfactorily. Services are conducted nightly at 7:30. All Christians are asked to support this revival through their prayers, presence and gifts.

Paris Walden son of Ulysses Walden enlisted in the U. S. Navy at Evansville Saturday. The following selective service registrants accepted on physical examination and sworn into service at Evansville Oct. 30 will depart Friday Nov. 13 by train for Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis. They are: Lennis Jones, Paul Chism, Cletis Hardman, Harold Pritchett, Harry Dickerson and Cecil Nolox.

Cards Of Thanks

BROWN—We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the death of my beloved husband, Herbert Brown. Also Rev. McKnight and Rev. J. T. Weeden for their consoling sermon and for the lovely solos rendered. We especially thank the neighbors for their lovely neighborhood flowers and King and King for their service. Burial at Old Crown.
 Mrs. Carrie Brown, wife.

RICKMAN—We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and brother, William M. Rickman. We especially thank Rev. R. T. Andrews for his consoling remarks and Mrs. Sarah Mitchell for her beautiful solo, and the John A. Patton Funeral Home for their most efficient services.
 The Rickman Family.

MILLER—We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our many friends in Indianapolis and in other cities during our sad bereavement in the death of our beloved mother and sister, Mrs. Ella Miller. And especially do we thank the Peoples Funeral Home for their lovely service.
 George Moore, son.
 Mrs. Lulu Vinson, sister.

WHITE—We wish to thank our relatives and friends for the kindness, flowers and sympathy given so generously at the death of our dear husband and father, Oscar F. White. We especially thank Rev. W. M. Edwards, Mrs. Luonah White, Mrs. Annie Garrett and the Tabernacle of God Choir and the Jacobs Brothers Mortuary.
 The Family.

In Memoriams—2

MONROE—In loving memory of our beloved mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Monroe, who passed away five years ago, Nov. 9, 1937, in Terre Haute, Ind.
 Green be the turf above thee, Mother.
 And friend of past days,
 None knew thee, but to love thee,
 Nor named thee but to praise.
 Sadly missed by her children,
 Clara Banks,
 Maude Barnett,
 Robert Monroe,
 Palmer Monroe,
 Hailey Monroe.

THOMPSON—In loving memory of my dear beloved wife, Canary J. Thompson, who passed away November 16, 1941.
 She is the one I miss so much and loved so dear,
 The voice is silent of one,
 I always loved to hear.
 William H. Thompson, husband.

CHANNELS—In memory of Mrs. Laura Channels, who passed away November 16, 1941.
 The peary gates were opened,
 A gentle voice said come,
 And with farewells unspoken,
 She gently entered home.
 Signed,
 Mrs. Ethel Davis Taylor.

BARNETT—In loving memory of my dear husband, William M. Barnett, who passed away November 12, 1937.
 Surrounded by friends I am lonesome,
 In the midst of my joys I am
 blue,
 With a smile on my face I have heartaches,
 Longing, dear husband, for you.
 Pauline, wife.

Mix Lemon Juice To Relieve Pains of RHEUMATISM
 Money Recipe—Must Help or Money Back

Good news travels fast. Many of the thousands of folks who have been taking lemon juice for rheumatic pain—have found that by adding two tablespoons of Allerton to one tablespoon of lemon juice in a glass of water, they get faster relief for the aches and pains caused by the gouty phases of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago—when irritated by excess uric acid or similar circulating poisons.
 It's no surprise either, for Allerton is a 19 year old prescription to relieve gouty rheumatic pain and distresses as explained above. In fact—if it does not help—your money back. What could be fairer? Get Allerton today at any drug store. Only 50 cents—Do it now.

RED CROSS

The Angel of Mercy's Got her wings in the mud—And all because of Negro blood. —Langston Hughes (For ANP)

"Opportunity is the cream of life."

I. Fortified by a warm, appetizing meal, these two children will return to their afternoon classes mentally alert and able to respond to the teaching provided for them. The school lunch which they are so obviously enjoying was made possible at a cost of a few cents a day by using American-grown farm products provided gratis by the Agricultural Marketing Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

ROCKPORT, IND.

Nov. 11 at 7:30 pm. Mrs. Alice Rucker entertained the Faithful Few club at home. The Brotherhood and Missionary society held very important meetings at the church on the evening of Nov. 10. Officers and members of all organizations hold a joint meeting in the Sunday school room this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The 165th anniversary of Quinn chapel will be celebrated for several evenings next May.

Homecoming was most largely attended and much enjoyed by members and friends in the church worship and S. S. last Sunday. The attendance in the former was 472. That in the latter was 197. Collections from all sources in the Sunday school were $15.71.

Douglas and Banneker Schools.

Mesdames Lala Young, Mary Smith, Thelma Robinson, Lorene Howard, Gretta Jones, Maxie Roberts, Nellie Price, Misses Lenora Ennix and Nannie Loan will assist the faculty of the Douglas school in the rationing of gasoline on Nov. 18, 19 and 20. Mesdames Annie Mucker, Marie Broadus, Alice Hinkle, Dora Cordery and Miss Margaret A. Taylor will assist the faculty of the Banneker school in the same rationing and on the same dates. They will gladly render such services next week.

Mrs. Alice Ellis and Mrs. Lala Watts, presidents of our Parents Teacher association are glad to cooperate with the government meetings of the P-T. A., until December 10 and 17 respectively. The date of Nov. 20 for the entertainment at Banneker is changed to Nov. 24.

Mrs. Aora E. Bertram was in Russellville, Ky., recently on account of the death of her aunt, Miss Doris McDonald has organized the Girls' Reserve club in the Douglas school. The girls have started on their program of work for the year. The officers are: Dora Miller, president; Mary Odway, vice-president; Betty J. Wayne, secretary; Miss McDonald, directress and treasurer.

Quinn Chapel—The Youth Council, Rose M. Brady, Bettie J. Martin, Ophelia Howard, Harriet Porter, Little Carol Witherspoon, superintendent C. T. Taylor, Revs. J. Bryant Cooper and G. Horace Jenkins participated in the program. Harold W. McKinney and the Brotherhood are grateful to all the members and friends who helped them have most splendid results in the Halloween social last week.

We were in great error last week in announcing the death of Dr. J. C. Caldwell in Tennessee. We entirely misunderstood Dr. G. Horace Jenkins in his announcement. He said it was Dr. S. L. Howard who died. Indeed we are very sorry of the misunderstanding and quickly make this correction.

LAY UP FOR A RAINY DAY
(By William Henry Huff for ANP)
Again the eagle flies your way. Again the mill wheels roll. Again you're drawing lots of pay. Again you're off the dole—Now, are you wiser than before, And do you know that rain is bound to come when this is over? Hard times will come again.

"Black. They don't give black people a chance, so I took a chance and lost. But I don't care none now. They got me and it's all over now."

"Do you feel, Bigger, that somehow, somewhere, or sometime, or other you'll have a chance to make up for what you didn't get here on earth?"

"H...I...naw! When they strap me in that chair and turn on that heat, I'm through, for always."

"Bigger, I want to ask you something about your race. Do you love your people?"

"I don't know, Mr. Max. We all black and the white folks treat us the same."

"But Bigger, our race is doing things for you. There are Negroes leading your people."

"Yeah, I know. I heard about 'em. They all right, I guess."

"Don't you know any of 'em?"

"Naw."

"Bigger, are there many Negro boys like you?"

"I reckon so. All of 'em I know ain't got nothing and ain't going nowhere."

"Why didn't you go to some of the leaders of your race and tell them how you and other boys felt?"

"Aw, h...I...Mr. Max, they wouldn't listen to me. They rich, even though the white folks treat them almost like they do me. They almost like white people when it comes to guys like me. They say guys like me make it hard for them to get along with white folks."

"Did you ever hear any of your leaders make speeches?"

"Yeah, sure. At 'lection time."

"What did you think of them?"

"Aw, I don't know. They all the same. They wanted to get 'lected to office. They wanted money, like everybody else. Mr. Max, it's a game and they play it."

"Why didn't you play it?"

"H...I...what do I know? I ain't got nothing. Nobody'll pay any attention to me. I'm just a black guy with nothing. I just went to grammar school. And politics is full of big shots, guys from colleges."

"Didn't you trust them?"

"I don't reckon they wanted anybody to trust 'em. They wanted to get 'lected to office. They paid you to vote."

"Did you ever vote?"

"Yeah, I voted twice. I wasn't old enough, so I put my age up so I could vote and get five dollars."

"YoU didn't mind selling your vote?"

"Naw, why should I?"

"You didn't mind selling your get you anything?"

"I got me five dollars on 'lection day."

"Bigger, did any white people ever talk to you about labor unions?"

"Naw, nobody but Jan and Mary. But she oughtn't done it. But I couldn't help what I did. And Jan, I reckon I did him wrong by signing 'Red' to that ransom note."

"Do you believe he's your friend now?"

"Well, he ain't against me. He didn't turn against me today when they was questioning him. I don't think he hates me like the others. I suppose he's kind of hurt about Miss Dalton though."

"Bigger, did you think you'd ever come to this?"

"Well, to tell the truth, Mr. Max, it seems sort of natural-like, me being here facing that death chair. Now, I come to think of it, it seems like something like this just had to be."

"They were silent. Max stood up and sighed. Bigger watched to see what Max was thinking, but Max's face was white and blank."

"Well, Bigger," Max said, "we'll enter a plea of not guilty at the arraignment tomorrow. But when the trial comes up we'll change it to a plea of guilty and ask for mercy. They're pushing the trial; it may be held in two or three days. I'll tell the judge all I can of how you feel and why. I'll try

AFL STAND-PATTERNS

"Pocket" Randolph, Geo. McCray Declares

(By George F. McCray for ANP)

The eyes of the Negro labor world are focused on the 1942 convention of the CIO opening in Boston on Nov. 9. Interest in the CIO convention has been greatly sharpened by the crushing defeat A. P. Randolph received at the hands of cowardly and reactionary leaders who dominated the Toronto convention of the AFL last week.

Randolph not only got no constructive action on his anti-discrimination platform, but he was rebuffed to the point of being expelled from the convention. This rebuff to Randolph was indeed quite disappointing to AFL CIO, and civic leaders who had hoped Bill Green, president of the AFL, would lead his organization to do something concrete about eliminating discrimination in AFL unions.

The convention simply refused to do a single thing to aid national unity. Simply put its eyes to the troublesome fact that cannot have both effective use of our manpower resources and appeasement to Hitler to Jim-crow in unions and industry at the same time.

One would think that Mr. Green and other AFL leaders would be doing everything they can to build national unity and to make the American people aware of the danger of discrimination to national security. Mr. Green is fully aware of the situation. He is a member of the President's Committee on Employment Practices and has been issuing strong statements against discrimination. Even Frank Fenton, general organizer of the AFL, has been participating in public hearings on discrimination all over the country.

Despite these gestures, various unions in the AFL are continuing discriminations as usual. They seem to know the AFL does not mean business on this discrimination issue. Almost at the same time the convention was telling Randolph they regarded him as a nuisance, an AFL union on the Pacific coast was demanding that the Kaiser Shipbuilding Co. segregate and demote 30 Negro skilled workers.

RANDOLPH ON SPOT.

Mr. Randolph is really on the spot. As a leader of the militant March-On-Washington Movement, he cannot afford to merely retire from the anti-discrimination fight and lick his wounds. He must do something, for it is now quite clear the AFL is not likely to support him in his fight against discrimination. Moreover, without the support of powerful leaders within the AFL, Randolph's effectiveness as a labor leader is seriously limited.

In contrast to the pocket in which the no-forward-step policy of the AFL has placed Randolph, Bill Townsend is getting excellent co-operation from the CIO. Townsend is the aggressive head of the United Transport Service Employees Union and is the only Negro to ever serve as an executive board member of a major federation of labor unions.

TOWNSEND IN STRATEGIC SPOT.

Since the opposition in the AFL was too powerful for Randolph to overcome in the AFL, it is now up to Townsend to run for a touchdown in CIO. He seems to face an open field.

Murray and the CIO's executive board on Townsend's instigation have agreed to sponsor before the CIO convention a resolution to create a special anti-discrimination department within the CIO. Townsend wants a department which will not only do "missionary" work in race relations in the labor movement, but which will also cultivate better race relations among the general public outside organized labor.

The widespread interest in this move by the Townsend forces, the co-operation he is getting from CIO leaders indicate that Townsend is fast becoming the most powerful Negro labor leader in the country.

Negroes Build Outstanding Records As Skilled Workers at Packing Plants

SWIFT FIRM IS ONE OF MAJOR EMPLOYERS.

This is the sixth of a series of articles on the important part being played by the Negro in the nation's war effort in the factories and in the armies of the United States.

Since nobody doubts that an army travels on its stomach, meat packing takes a place beside the manufacture of guns and shells as an essential war industry. Chicago, as world center of the meat packing business, therefore contributes not only to the welfare of the Army but also sends life-sustaining meat and meat by-products to the civilian populations of the various United Nations.

Negroes have been employed in the large plants in the Chicago area since meat packing became a major industry. Today, and for a good many years past, they are found in both the skilled and semi-skilled categories as well as at the unskilled jobs.

Work in Special Lines.

One of the major employers of Negro labor is Swift & Co., one of the largest meat packers out in the famed stockyards district. This past July, out of a roster of approximately 5,400 manual workers, there were 2,039 Negroes at the Swift plant. This is considerably more than were employed there at the corresponding time in 1941. It is true of Negroes as it is of other races and nationalities working there that the total number fluctuates with the seasonal demands of the industry and the type of volume being handled.

Although they are at work in most departments, the majority of the Swift & Co. Negro personnel are in the cattle, sheep and hog dressing sections and their subsidiary departments, soap, table ready

FORT HUACHUCA, Ariz.—Just outside the gates of this historic Post, squatting at the foot of Arizona's Picturesque mountains lie the unincorporated community of Fry, Arizona. Like the proverbial mushroom, Fry sprang up overnight and grew by the grace and nature of the military patronage that so generously contributed to its survival out of necessity and not by choice.

In Fry, one has found the good with the bad, and needless to say, the evil has tried to run rampant to such an extent that the good would soon be decidedly the second best in the field. Canteens, theatres, grocery stores, sandwich shops and the USO Center are landmarks of decency and respect, that are certainly assets to the military assembled here.

They patriotically co-operate with the Post Command for the best interest of the soldiers and should be given every chance to live and thrive in a clean atmosphere.

Colonel Edwin N. Hardy, Post

Commander, and his staff demand that Fort Huachuca be exposed to only the best in the way of clean, wholesome recreation. The improvements now being inaugurated with the co-operation of the Federal Government's WPA, the State of Arizona and Patrioticism financed by Colored Business men, with the entire project under the control of the military, will undoubtedly give Fry that necessary clean bill of health.

The Command at Fort Huachuca realizing this fact, and because it feels a protective responsibility to those men who are preparing to fight, The Battle of World Survival and Decency, makes it know, that only the best will be offered these men of Huachuca. Good clean recreation is provided for all men who are in the throes of rigid military training, because after a hard day in the field, relaxation is necessary so that the man who carries America's colors into the fray can greet the new day refreshed and better able to "carry on."

This is the type of American soldier that is needed to whip the Japa-nazi's. With its Theatres, Sports Arena, Ball Diamonds, Football gridirons, swimming pool, Service Clubs, Post Exchanges, Fort Huachuca is a community in itself.

Huachuca will always turn out better fighting men because of good training surroundings. Its training terrain offers excellent advantage to most of the skilled work on the dressing floor.

An assistant foreman in the soap continuously for Swift since 1913 factory, James Johnson has worked after being hired first in 1908 and afterward leaving. Robert Hackley, taken on in 1918, is an evaporator man and Phil Weightman, with the plant 12 years, during the rush season in 1941 acted as an instructor and all-around butcher in the hog dressing department.

As is customary in most Chicago plants, Negroes are integrated throughout instead of being separated into special units. Thus far, Swift executives say they have encountered no particular problems of racial friction and believe that while at work there may be less friction at the company than is to be found in the community outside of employment activities.

Many Negroes are union members, with several serving on various committees of their labor organizations and occupying official positions in the administration of union affairs.

EXPERT BUTCHERS, NEGRO AND WHITE, work together in this department at Swift & Co., preparing hams and bacon for use throughout the United Nations. More than 2,000 Negroes are employed at the huge packing plant in the Stockyards area.

meats, smoked meats, pork trimming, curing collars, refinery departments, cold storage and the by-product departments.

Obviously, with more than 2,000 Negro workers, many have made outstanding records and have been in the company employ for many years.

One of the oldest is Joseph Shores who last spring started, his forty-third year at the plant. He has been a Swift & Co. worker since April 1900, leaving for a short time in 1904 but returning the following year. Starting as a teamster, Shores, now 64, has been a chauffeur since 1939.

He's a Shipping Clerk.

Another old employee is Al Wall who started work in 1902, quit ages for combat training. That is the reason the first all-Colored infantry division of this war was activated here. In passing, it can be said that Fort Huachuca lies in a cosmopolitan triangle in that it has a Mexican, Indiana and American flavor.

Mushrooming out of the vast sandy Arizona waste like a huge Military Taj Mahal, is Fort Huachuca, the largest Colored Military Command in the U. S. Embodies back to the days of Chief Geronimo and The Apache Kid, Fort Huachuca has stood as a rugged protective sentinel along our continental border. Here today on this same Post, thousands of brown-skinned sons of America are going through intensive training preparatory to coming to grips with a ruthless enemy that is intent upon destroying the tenets of democracy which are dear to the hearts of all liberty loving Americans.

In spite of the fact that Fort Huachuca is somewhat removed from heavily populated urban areas, it is one, if not the finest, military camps in the country. Because of its climate, which offers 245 days or better a year in continual sunshine and health giving altitude, which has in the past been an invitation to hopeful civilian "on-vascents, there is no doubt that the most rugged, aggressive fighting men can be made on this Post.

It is the type of American soldier that is needed to whip the Japa-nazi's. With its Theatres, Sports Arena, Ball Diamonds, Football gridirons, swimming pool, Service Clubs, Post Exchanges, Fort Huachuca is a community in itself.

courage of a man is what counts not his class, race, creed or color.

The boys who fell at Bataan, who met death on the sea or in the high air over our myriad battle fronts, were fighting for us, and together with us. Can we let down their heroism by divisive-ness at home?

"Now the frontiers are all closed. There is no other country we can run to."

At last we must turn and live with one another."

So speaks one of the poets of this new war. There is no dodging the issue. We must learn how to co-operate, how to get along with our neighbors, how to live together.

Wherever OUR duty—OUR opportunity for service—lies, we must work TOGETHER, in shop and on the farm, at the battle front and in the home.

We must sacrifice TOGETHER. We must prove our faith by putting into actual practice our belief in the democratic way of working TOGETHER without asking other than that our fellow workers abide by the principles set down in our Bill of Rights.

Therein lies the great difference between the democracies and the totalitarian states. THEY fight under orders for the State—we fight together for the good of all people. This is the cohesive quality of democracy. This is why we work together now. This is why we will work together for the future and for a permanent peace in a world in which all men will be free.
